"JACKASSES' SONS" FINALLY HALTERED, SAYS WILL ROGERS

(Special To The News)
ST. LOUIS, Feb. 15.—Flying to Claremore and run into a snow storm here and got set down.

"Sons of the wild jackasses," after six solid days of bray-ing, were finally halted by public opinion, and a twitch put on their upper lip to the score of Hughes 32, jackasses 26.

I hope Mr. Hughes don't prove as mean as they insinuated.
They say he is all for the rich, that, if appointed, he would take the liquor away from the poor and give it to the wealthy.
The minute a boy comes out of college, Henry Ford is going to take him and educate him so he can make a living. If he can do that, it will make him our greatest living American.

Yours,
WILL ROGERS.

PA NEW C OBSERVES

It has been suggested to Pa New that there are drivers of motor vehicles, including many trucks, which in the hurry to pass over street intersections where there are automatic signal lights, often fail to stop until they are right on part of the highway, which is reserved for the use of the pedestrian, when the lights permit them to cross. It is suggested that all motorists pay strict attention to the need of allowing plenty of space for the pedestrians to cross and should they stop protruding over the space allotted to the people on foot, that they back up until back of this space. Pa New has been reliably informed that there will be a traffic violation tag given the offenders in the future, who fail to do this.

A lot of New Castle motorists, who thought they could put their chains away for the rest of the winter, had to dig them out again this morning, following the light fall of snow, which made highways slippery.

Plans are under way by the Woman's Club of New Castle to fix up Memorial Park across from the Janison Memorial hospital, which is a worthy project and deserving of the support of every citizen of the community.

Coroner J. P. Caldwell, who taught school at Harrisburg a good many years, must have been a pretty good school teacher. One of the Pa New family met another pupil of his last night in the person of Dr.
A. C. Locke, who is district superintendent of the Erie district of the Methodist Episcopal church, who attributes much of his success in life to the good start he got under Coroner Caldwell.

In a note to Pa New, it is stated that it is impossible to secure any of the wood, that is from time to time being burned up, when old freight cars are being destroyed at the Seventh ward yards. He says that no arrangements can be made to secure it, apparently.

What has happened to the police shoots which featured a former administrator? Officers were for good marksmanship and several of the men became adepts with the pistol.
A range was located in the city building cellar. There are several capable revolver shots here as instructors.

States Policeman Gondell who has been away on investigations has returned to the station at the Troop
D. State police, located at the Colonial hotel. Gondell and Michael Shulke are on duty here regularly.
Private Elliott who was Gondell's relief has returned to Butler barracks.

With spring hovering around a corner and despite a bed of snow city councilmen are preparing to inspect

Two Are Killed; Third Injured; In Auto Crash

Machine Goes Over Embank-

Storm

ACCIDENT OCCURS
AT CLEVELAND, OHIO

Strikes Tree In Mad Plunge Down Embankment
From Boulevard

(BULLETIN)
(International News Service)
CLEVELAND, Feb. 15.—

Two men were killed and a third was perhaps fatally injured here today when their automobile hurtled over an embankment and crashed into a tree during a blinding snowstorm.

The dead are: Joseph Reber, 40, recently of Williamsport, Pa., and Francis J. Cullen, 35, of Cleveland.

The injured man is Charles Leland, 55, of Alliance, driver of the car. Hospital authorities at Glenville hospital, where Leland was taken, reported that he was near death.
Blinding snow which obscured the vision of the driver of the automobile is believed responsible for the crash, according to police.
The car, police investigators said,
was traveling west on Lake Shore Boulevard when it plunged over the embankment. Impact of the crash drove the tree half through the body of the machine.

Taxi-Cab Strike Growing Serious

Two Taxi-Cabs In Pittsburgh Shoved Over Embankments And Burned
By Infuriated
Mobs

POLICE USE TEAR BOMBS EFFECTIVELY

(International News Service)
PITTSBURGH, Feb. 15.—Tear gas bombs, night sticks, trench helmets and various accoutrements of warfare greeted the sight of Pittsburghers today as the taxi-cab strike which has been raging for the past thirty-five days continued with neither side willing to give way to the other.

Mayor Charles H. Kline remained adamant today in his refusal to enter the strike in any role other than a bystander and to see that life and property of citizens is protected.
Aroused by the burning of two cabs, the stoning of numerous drivers and deputy sheriffs riding with them, Pittsburgh Transportation officials have asked that their cabs be guarded by police in uniform while Sheriff Robert S. Cain considers the advantages of adding guns to the defense.

Two Cabs Burned
Today the charred ruins of two Green cabs bear mute testimony to the intensity of the feeling that has been aroused over the prolonged strike which has rendered 1,400 men jobless. Alleged strike sympathizers mobbled the drivers of both cabs and then pushed the machines over embankments where, ignited as the gas tanks exploded, they burned while the drivers and their guards battled the mobs to make their escape.

The strike, which has been comparatively quiet until recently, started five weeks ago when drivers of the Yellow and the Green Cab companies, Paradee subsidiaries, announced that a raise in wages granted them turned out to be an actual reduction for older men while offering better prospects to new men.

Efforts on the part of Secretary of Labor James J. Davis to bring the strike to an early end were doomed to disappointment when strikers first voted to accept the compromise plan and then repudiated the following day. Since then neither the owners nor the drivers have been able to come to terms and fighting began with the efforts of the company to resume service through imported drivers.

FRANCE BRINGS NAVAL PARLEY TO IMPASSE

By HARRY R. FLORY
International News Service Staff Correspondent
LONDON, Feb. 15.—Brought to an impasse by France's firm demands for a fleet of 724,479 tons by 1935, the delegates at the London naval conference, now resting the week-end adjournment, confined optimistic today despite the apparent futility of any hopes that real naval armament reduction will be effected at the present parley.

All the chief delegates feel that even if the present conference does not succeed in reducing the navies of the five great naval powers, it will at least effect definite equilibrium among those fleets which should pave the way for actual reduction at a future conference, possibly in 1935.

Problem Grows
As the situation stands now, France's demands for a fleet equal to that of the combined navies of Italy and Germany have brought her figures for minimum tonnage up to a point where great Britain in order to safeguard her Mediterranean interests may feel compelled to increase her demands.

With Britain and the United States pledged to the principle of parity, this would mean that the United States with a navy at present far inferior to that of Britain in power, would have to enter upon a huge naval building program rather than attempt naval reduction.

Also Demand More
In the background stand Japan and Italy, the former demanding a 70 percent ratio of the American total and the latter parity with France. If France adheres to her demands, the tonnage figures for these two countries automatically would go up. This would mean naval building all around as a direct result of a conference

Severe Cold Wave Is Due Tonight

Temperatures Will Hover About 5 Degrees Above Tonight
And Sunday Forecast

(International News Service)
PITTSBURGH, Feb. 15.—The cold wave now sweeping over the Middle West is headed this way and will strike this section tonight, Weather Forecaster W. S. Brozman said today.
A temperature of five degrees above zero is expected to send Pennsylvanians into the shivering stage.
It will hang on over Sunday, too, Brozman said, when the temperature will rise a little, but hover about the five to 10-degree points.
The center of the storm is heading a little south of here, according to the forecaster, and western Pennsylvania will escape the worst of the snow, but will get the low temperature.

Warnock Speaks To Spanish Vets On Anniversary

Veterans Observe 32nd Anniversary Of Sinking Of The Maine

GEORGE W. MUSE
IS TOASTMASTER

Oldest Member Of Col. Daniel Leasure Auxiliary Is Especially Honored

In commemoration of the sinking of the battleship "Maine" in Havana harbor, thirty-two years ago, which caused the Spanish-American war, members of Colonel Daniel Leasure
Camp No. 24, United Spanish War Veterans, their wives, families, friends and guests from other patriotic and service organizations gathered at the Legion Home Friday night.
The event proved outstanding in the history of the camp. Featuring a most interesting program, was the address given by Attorney Fred J.
Warnock of Youngstown, former mayor of that city, and a native of Lawrence county, an inspiring, patriotic address, in which he drew upon the memories of '98 and his early life here in a most fascinating, inspirational way.

Following the blessing by the Rev.
Nathan B. McClung of Volant, the approximately hundred guests of the evening enjoyed a sumptuous dinner prepared and served by the ladies of the camp auxiliary.

Muse Toastmaster
The dinner over, Dr. C. C. Green, veteran of the Spanish American war and superintendent of the public schools of the city, introduced Attorney George W. Muse as toastmaster of the evening.

Attorney Muse was in fine fettle and his remarks and introductions were unique, humorous and kept the crowd in a pleasant and interested frame of mind.
The toastmaster first called upon Frank S. Nesole, adjutant of Daniel Leasure camp for announcements and Mr. Nesole read communications from Walter S. Reynolds and James A.
Bell, the latter as commander of Harry L. McBride Post, Veterans of Foreign wars. Then followed a series of messages, purporting to be from President Hoover, James J. Davis, secretary of labor, Charles Evans Hughes, Jack Hannon and others, which kept the assembled throng on edge.

Then followed a charming feature of the evening in a jazz dance by Helen Humme, an acrobatic dance by Ruth Thompson and a song and dance by Nellie Brady. These were interesting and enjoyed by the guests of the occasion.

Mrs. Knowles Honored
Mrs. Margaret Knowles, aged 80, oldest member of Daniel Leasure auxiliary, was introduced and was received with acclaim.

Then followed the presentation of representatives of the American Legion, the Veterans of Foreign Wars, the auxiliary to the Legion and N. C.
Patton, present commander of Daniel Leasure camp.

Attorney Fred J. Warnock, of Youngstown, native of Lawrence county and former mayor of Youngstown was introduced.
Recalls Memories of 1898
Remarking that he thought that the motto or slogan on the invitations or announcements of the annual event "Dealing In Memories" was appropriate, Attorney Warnock launched into an address, in which he recalled memories of '98, in which he told how, his brother got to go to war at that time, but he had to stay at home and tend the farm of his widowed mother, recalling his feelings as his brother marched away to fight Spain, while he was compelled to return to the routine work of the farm.
He summarized this situation thus:

Airplane Thieves Wreck Ship, Flee Following Crash

Big $50,000 Tri-Motored Plane
Is Charred Ruins; Police
Hunt For Thieves

(International News Service)
SOUTH BEND, Ind. Feb. 15.—The charred fuselage of a $50,000 trimotored airplane lay in a marsh here today as police began a widespread search for two thieves who stole the plane from the Corman Aircraft company hangars at Detroit yesterday.
The plane was destroyed by fire after its two occupants were forced to land in rough marshland on a farm near here. Escaping from the burning wreckage uninjured. They fled before police arrived.

Michael Cieselski, owner of the farm on which the ship crashed, saw the mishap. The plane he said, circled several times then dived to the ground, its three motors digging into the mud. The next instant flames burst from one wing and the men scrambled out.

FOUR CHILDREN BURN TO DEATH

(BULLETIN)
(International News Service)
RACINE, Wis., Feb. 15.—

Four children were burned to death and three adults probably fatally hurt in a fire which destroyed a frame home on the outskirts of Racine today.

The dead are:
Irene Christiansen, 6; Phillis, 4, a sister; Bonty, 2, a sister; Edna, 10-months, a sister.

Their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Christiansen, were rushed to a hospital with burns which are expected to prove fatal. A brother of Mrs.
Christiansen, Harry Bordwardt, 18, also may die.

The fire was started by an overheated stove.
Bordwardt built a fire of wood and soft coal upon rising shortly after 7
a. m. He was in the basement of the place when fumes from the coal caused the stove to explode, the hot coals being thrown about the living room of the four room house.

Believe Several More Robberies Are Solved By Arrest Of Four

In the arrest last night and early this morning of three youths and a man, the police believe that they have cleared up the theft of quantities of brass and high speed babbit from the Johnson Bronze company, much loot from Fisher Brothers, the theft of a number of tires from Harry's Auto Wrecking Company place on South Mill street, and the theft of copper wire from the Pittsburgh and Lake Erie.

The three youths, all under sixteen years of age, were apprehended by the police in the south side late last night, at various points on suspicion of their participation in the theft of brass from the Johnson Bronze company.
They implicated the man, who gives the name of Ed Wallace and resides in the rear of East Long avenue, as being the fellow "higher up". The brass and babbit stolen were sold in Youngstown, Wallace being known to have had a large check from a concern over there in the past few days.

Youths arrested are Charles Bucher, George Balinsky and Mike Depp. The arresting officers in the case of the boys were Detective John Young, M.
J. Young, Letera, Moore and Thomas.
Notified by the Pittsburgh and Lake Erie officers of the possibility of these boys being mixed up, and Officers Moore and Thomas started to look for them.

Grundy Approves Slate, Is Report From Pittsburgh

Senator Grundy Seeks Re-

PITTSBURGH, Feb. 15.—W. L.
Mellon, former Republican state chairman, is speeding to Florida's sun-kissed shores today, leaving local politicians to speculate, surmise and conjecture on an undivided slate of candidates for state offices upon which Senator Joseph R. Grundy is reported to have placed his stamp of approval.

Maintaining the same tight-lipped silence that has marked his recent stay here, Mellon boarded a Florida bound train last night. The last word to come from the Mellon camp here was that the former organization chairman was "too busy" preparing for his vacation to make a statement.

Nothing startling, for instance, to be heard by Grundy to succeed himself, an inevitable consequence of his appointment by Governor John S. Fisher
when the executive predicted Grundy's designation on the stipulation "that he be a candidate to succeed himself."

As to the slate itself—if, in truth, it be a bona fide slate—there is nothing startling or unlooked for to those who have followed political developments in western and eastern Pennsylvania and Washington during the last few days.

It is reported, for instance, to be headed by Grundy to succeed himself,

pointment by Governor John S. Fisher

Maine Member Makes Reply To Beck And Fort

Sounds Warning To Drys Against Compromise On Prohibition

SAYS CONGRESS MUST MAKE LAW EFFECTIVE

"Representative Government Is On Trial In This Specific Instance"

(International News Service)
WASHINGTON, Feb. 15.—

Sounding a warning to drys against compromise, Rep.
Beedy (R) of Maine started a dry counter-attack in the House today with the declaration the Eighteenth Amendment is a clear constitutional mandate to Congress and the States to enforce prohibition and to the people to observe it.

Taking the floor to answer the wet speech of Rep. Beck (R) of Pennsylvania, and the right-to-home-brew argument of Rep. Fort (R) of New Jersey, Beedy challenged the wets to begin campaigns in state legislature for petitions to congress to repeal the eighteenth amendment.

Denounces Beck Argument
He denounced the argument of Beck that there is no obligation upon congress to enforce the eighteenth amendment and questioned the statement of Fort that it was aimed solely at the organized liquor traffic, and not at drinking in the home.

Admitting the eighteenth amendment is not self-enforcing, Beedy contended congress is bound by the constitution to make it effective.
"No one can ride the constitutional-defender horse and the constitutional-destroyer horse at the same time without disaster," said Beedy.
"I submit that it is clear that if the 18th amendment in no way enables congress to thwart prohibition. It is the duty of the congress to take action for its proper enforcement."

Criticized States
He criticized states which have repealed enforcement laws, saying:

Ohio Valley: Mostly fair except for a period of showers Tuesday or Wednesday, and again about Saturday. Rising temperature at the beginning of the week, followed by temperatures mostly above normal.
Region of the Great Lakes: Unsettled most of week with frequent periods of precipitation; temperature mostly near or slightly below normal in north and somewhat above in south portion.

Arthur Mometer

The leopard cannot change its spots, the rose can't change its smell, and February cannot change, which may be just as well. For if this month was April like, and changed each day or so, we wouldn't know just whether it would rain or shine or snow. This is the month of frigid days, and let them come along, for when its April we expect the sunshine going strong and if the weather gets mired up and summer comes too soon, we'll likely get a flock of snow when we're expecting June. So let it snow and blizz a lot and let the north winds roar, it's February weather folks, and it is twenty four.

Senate Hopes To Pass Tariff Bill By First Of March

Senate Settles Down To Work On Tariff Bill; Hope For Enactment By March 1

ONLY ONE BREAK IN DEBATE SEEN

Indications Point To Year Old Legislative Battle On Tariff Ending In Short While

By WILLIAM K. HUTCHINSON
International News Service Staff Correspondent
WASHINGTON, Jan. 15.—Economic policies of the United States supreme court have been thoroughly aired. The Senate settled down today to enact the administration's long pending tariff bill by March 1.

This was the goal of both Republican and Democratic leaders who have gradually tired of their year-old legislative guest. The program, once the tariff is passed, includes action on Muscle Shoals legislation, passage of the bill transferring the prohibition bureau to the Department of Justice and enactment of the Cullen-Brannan bill, placing all radio, telephone, telegraph and cable service under one federal commission.

Free-for-All
The program was subject to "change without notice" if the wet and dry war breaks out in the Senate before its schedule. Administration leaders have become reconciled to a free-for-all battle over prohibition, its enforcement and proposals for its modification, but they hope to postpone it until the middle of March. There was no assurance this postponement would be accepted by wets and dries, so the prohibition war may break at any time in the upper branch of Congress.

The tariff meanwhile seemed on the way to initial passage by March 1. It will then be sent to conference. With both the House and Senate later acting on the conference report, its final enactment may be delayed until May.

Only One Break
There will be but one break in the tariff debate if administration leaders have their way. This will come next Tuesday, when action is taken on confirmation of Hugh M. State of Knoxville, Tenn., as an Interstate Commerce Commissioner. Senator Black (D) of Alabama will lead the fight against Tate, charging he does not represent the South. However, his confirmation is conceded.

This program was presented by Senator Watson (R) of Indiana, the majority leader. He was particularly anxious to pass the tariff by March 1.

"There has been no evidence of a filibuster, and all groups have indicated a desire to get the tariff passed and sent to conference," Watson explained. "The Republicans have assumed the responsibility for enacting this bill and Democrats are helping to pass it because they do not wish to be charged with filibustering against it. I am hopeful it will be passed by the end of February."

Former Fighter Dies In Buffalo Of Gun Wounds

Theodore Majewski, 30, Formerly Known As Teddy Meyers, Battles Police Bug Losses

(International News Service)
BUFFALO, N. Y., Feb. 15.—Theodore Majewski, 30, a former prize-fighter, known professionally as Teddy Meyers, staged a thrilling gun battle with police in his home last night, while his two-year-old child slept unmindful of what was taking place about him.

Majewski died early today from the effects of a bullet wound suffered in the battle. None of the policemen was hurt.

The duel began shortly after Majewski's wife told Patrolman Arthur Simpson that her husband had been drinking and would not allow her to enter the house. Simpson called reinforcements and four patrolmen surrounded the house. When he found himself trapped, Majewski fired through the rear door. Simpson returned the fire through a window, one bullet striking the former prize-fighter above the heart.

Although mortally wounded, Majewski continued to fire until he emptied his gun, when he collapsed.

Rev. Crooks Is P. T. A. Speaker

Has Education As Theme For Address Before Oak Street Chapter

SPLENDID PROGRAM FEATURES EVENING

That the purposes for which money is invested in education today are to enable one to make a real living, to fit one to be a good citizen and to build a real character in that individual who pursues it, was the striking key thought of the Rev. E. A. Crooks, Reform Presbyterian church pastor, in speaking before the Parent-Teachers' association of the Oak street school last night.

Summarizing his message on the subject "The Significance of Our Educational Program," Dr. Crooks said that the thing which enters into the problem in a good education are physical skill, intellectual development and moral balance.

Last night's meeting was one of the most enthusiastic and largely attended of the Oak street chapter for some time, and marked the second of the new year. Mrs. Ralph Montgomery, the president, was in charge.

Opening devotions were conducted by Mrs. Montgomery, after which the audience sang numerous P. T. A. songs.

A feature of entertainment were the songs which a group of children of Miss Eakin's class, made up as black-faced minstrel singers, sang. They sang "Oh Susanna," "Carry Me Back to Old Virginia," "A Frog He Would a Wooing Go." Accompanying on the banjo was Edward Montanari.

Two readings, "Playing Lady" and "Looking for Tommy," were then delivered by Marian Shaffer.

A piano duet was given by Wilda Armstrong and Tom Cramer, "In Shubert's Day" and "Call to Arms."

A stringed duet composed of Pete Bessel and William Cunningham delighted the mothers, fathers and teachers with several numbers.

Near the close of the program, Miss Iretta V. Dart, Oak street principal, complimented the parents on their real spirit of cooperation.

Following adjournment a dainty repast with everything carried out in valentine effects was served by the social committee, comprised of Mrs. Harold Allen, Mrs. W. J. Bradford, Mrs. Glenn Fox, Mrs. Jim McCallion, Mrs. Leroy Stevenson, Mrs. Earl Cornelius, Miss Clara Smyth and Mrs. Julie LaMelle.

Hoover Concludes Fishing Expedition

Presidential Party Will Head Back To Washington Tonight—Still Seeks Big Fish

(International News Service)
LONG KEY, Fla., Feb. 15.—President Hoover would spend a one-week vacation in Florida today with one final fling at fish. He caught one the first day out, but since then Mrs. Hoover and all his guests have topped his catch.

Tonight, after dinner, the presidential party will entrain for Washington. They will reach the capital very early Monday morning.

All of Mr. Hoover's efforts with rod and reel this week have been rather unsatisfactory.

blows upon the hold-up man. The other bandit, who had remained in the front of the stand, then jumped into the thick of the fight.

With both guns spouting fire, the two bandits backed toward the door. William Weddel dropped to the floor, a bullet in his abdomen, and his brother, Charles, fell a moment later with a slug in his chest.

Word of the attack was flashed to state police and a dragnet was spread throughout this section. It is believed the pair made their getaway in an automobile.

However, there are many who still see a loophole. These feel that despite M. Tardieu's refusal to admit it, his figures of 724,479 tons for France was put forth solely for bargaining purposes. They believe he wishes to use it to force a pact for "mutual guarantee and security" among the naval powers. The American delegates are definitely opposed to such a pact on principle.

All the delegates are now out of London for the week-end.

STAR LORE

STARS ARE NOT POINTS OF LIGHT

By Arthur DeV. Carpenter
Many have difficulty in grasping the idea that the stars have large dimensions proportions like our sun, since they appear as mere points of light in the heavens. But here is an illustration that will assist such readers: if we were permitted to stand on the nearest star and view the sun from that distance, our sun would appear as one of the brighter stars, and the planets rotating around it could not be seen at all by the aid of the most powerful telescopes. A star as bright as the sun would appear, at a distance of 10 parsecs—32.5 light years, as of the fifth magnitude.

Young of the city police force and Officers Letoria and M. J. Young at the Star Poolroom on Long avenue, while Balinsky was picked up on Moravia street. Charles Bucher was picked up in front of Simon's Poolroom on Long avenue. While Officer Thomas was looking for Bucher in the poolroom, Detective Young and Officers M. J. Young and Letoria waited in front of the place. A youth came out, whom Detective Young knew as Bucher and he was arrested.

Following their apprehension, some of the youths, the police said, admitted having participated in the theft of some brass and rabbit from the Johnson Bronze Company plant. They told of being at the plant one time, when they were frightened away by the number going through a window and losing a revolver. The revolver was found and is in possession of people associated with the company.

They implicated Ed Wallace as the man "higher up," who was the leader in the thefts and sold the stuff in Youngstown, they said.

Wallace was arrested at his residence about 3:40 o'clock this morning by Officer Budd Fleeher. Wallace denied all connection with the brass and rabbit thefts and seemed quite sure of his grounds.

The authorities however maintained a watch on his home, while questioning him. When officers found two women busily engaged in packing up large numbers of articles, the principal part have since been identified by representatives of Fisher Brothers as the property of that concern. They were bundling them up for the purpose of hiding them elsewhere, police believe.

Statements were made to the police by the women, who are not as yet under arrest.

Among the articles of merchandise found in the Wallace home and taken to the police station were many different kinds of rayon underwear for women, an umbrella, blankets, socks, women's hose, tie clasps, tooth paste, men's underwear, fine new gloves, articles of baby wear, bed spreads, table cloths and many other articles. The value of the goods recovered for that number going through a window and losing a revolver. The revolver was found and is in possession of people associated with the company.

Eleven second hand tires stolen from Harry's Auto Wrecking Place on South Mill street was also recovered. The number stolen was approximately twenty-five. There are a number of articles of wearing apparel that have not yet been identified by any of numerous merchants, who have been asked by the authorities to come in and inspect them.

WARNOK SPEAKS TO SPANISH VETS ON ANNIVERSARY

"On the way home after seeing my brother leave, I came to the conclusion that perhaps it required as great a courage to stay at home on the farm in stirring times such as those, as to go to the front."

He also remarked that "While we all prefer peace, I have no patience with those persons who would prefer peace at any price. It seems to me that the best way to avoid war is to be prepared. I much prefer that this nation should have a spirit of fighting than we should be a race of mollycoddlers. Then, too, I feel that our nation shall be better from the enforcement of all the laws, including the eighteenth amendment. There is such a thing as liberty being carried too far, especially where it comes to the matter of enforcement of laws. The nation is best that respects and obeys its laws."

Tribute To Heroes

This concluded the program of the evening, except for the moment of silence spent with bowed heads and in silent prayer for those who had passed on in the sinking of the Maine, thirty-two years ago on February 15. The dining tables and dining hall of the Legion home were prettily decorated with the national colors and in keeping with the valentine season. The centerpiece was a ship commemorative of The Maine placed directly in front of the speakers and bearing the now famous slogan of Spanish American war days "Remember the Maine."

The committee of the camp in charge of this very successful event consisted of E. G. Harper, chairman, Frank S. Nesille, M. L. McMillin, P. F. Knowles, Orville VanHorn, Dr. C. C. Green.

Washington State Woman Rushed To San Francisco For Cancer Serum Treatment

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 15.—After a 1,000 mile airplane flight from Wenatchee, Wash., Mrs. Irving Edwins, near death of cancer, today was to receive additional injections of the cancer serum recently discovered by Doctors W. B. Coffey and John D. Hunter San Francisco physicians.

A few days ago, physicians had told Edwins that his wife's condition was hopeless. Then he heard of the Coffey-Hunter serum. He was told that if he brought his wife here she would be given the new treatment.

Piloted by Charles A. Rector, an especially equipped plane took off from Wenatchee yesterday morning with the woman and her husband, after making stops at Portland, Ore., and Redding, Cal., for fuel. The plane arrived here late yesterday.

An ambulance met the plane and Mrs. Edwins was rushed to a hospital for treatment.

"Representative government is in this specific instance on trial. One great question is whether a majority of the states in the union may regularly adopt a constitutional provision embodying a national policy, and survive the militant attacks by organized minorities in a few of the states. It is, to say the least. A challenge to the Jeffersonian and Lincolnian conception of the federal union, when such states as New York, Wisconsin, Montana, repeal their own state enforcement laws, and through their representatives in congress, give utterance to sentiments which serve to condone if not to encourage violations of the law."

The constitution, Beedy said, is binding "Upon those without as well as within the halls of congress." No State, he said, can disregard a constitutional amendment "without imperiling our whole constitutional system."

Declaring that the prosecution of 56,000 prohibition offenders last year constitutes a small portion of the population, Beedy maintained that the law is being enforced and observed "in thousands of communities."

AGED LADIES ENJOY VALENTINE PARTY

Friday afternoon marked a most pleasant time for the ladies of the Almira Home when they were entertained by the Home Department of the Woman's Club with a Valentine party.

One feature of the occasion was the singing of familiar songs led by Mrs. Ernest Greiner, which all took an active part in. Mrs. Greiner also sang for the ladies accompanied by Mrs. W. A. Pond. A reading from the story, "Aunt Jane from Kentucky" was pleasingly given by Mrs. E. F. G. Harper, proving quite amusing as it contained humor as well as pathos and the close attention of the listeners gave evidence of their interest.

At a chosen hour, dainty refreshments were served the guests, which were carried out in their attractive appointments of red hearts and Valentine suggestions. The ladies of the Home were presented with little favors of the same.

At the close, the aged women extended their thanks in appreciation of the enjoyable time they had.

The committee from the Home Department who had charge of the arrangements, and were complimented on the huge success it turned out to be, comprise of Mrs. Samuel Veach, Mrs. David Mackey, Mrs. Chester Reynolds, Mrs. Mary Shields, and Mrs. H. L. Marvin.

Worthwhile Kensington.

Mrs. Harry Morrison of Clayton street received the members of the Worthwhile Kensington in her home on Friday with 10 present.

The usual social period of Kensington and chat was enjoyed with radio music as an added feature. Refreshments were served by the hostess at a selected hour, with the appointments being carried out in Valentine decorations in a tasteful manner.

March 14 marks the next meeting which will be held in the home of Mrs. Edward Mehard, Morton street.

LUTHERAN CONTEST CLOSURES WITH BANQUET

St. Paul's Evangelical Lutheran Sunday school wound up its attendance contest by giving a banquet to the whole school Friday evening at the 6:30. The teachers and few of the older classes prepared and served the banquet.

The tables were cleverly and artistically decorated in keeping with the Valentine season and every available space in the church dining room was filled.

The contest winners in the adult department were the young ladies class, taught by Mrs. A. T. Chamberlain, and the mixed adult Bible class, taught by Rev. A. M. Stump. In the primary department, the girls' class, Miss Katherine Eve, teacher, was the high scorer.

A. T. Chamberlain acted as master of ceremonies and group singing opened the ceremonies. Rev. Oscar Woods of the Bethany Lutheran church, was speaker of the evening. He brought an interesting message to the people of his work during the time he was missionary in Wyoming and at that time, the only united Lutheran pastor in that state.

Committee Meeting
Mrs. W. H. Hanger, chairman, Mrs. John Offutt, Mrs. S. W. Guy, Mrs. C. R. Belfer, Mrs. A. C. McCoy, Mrs. J. C. Kirk and Mrs. J. E. Ferrelman have been appointed members of the ticket committee of the welfare department of the Woman's club, for the Memorial Park Bridge and Fashion Show which will take place February 25.

The ticket and patroness committee will meet on Monday afternoon, at 2 o'clock before the regular meeting of the Woman's club.

Members of the patroness committee include Mrs. George Ralph, chairman, Mrs. William Glasser, Mrs. C. W. Mayberry, Mrs. Elizabeth Kaplan, Mrs. R. C. McKinley, Mrs. William Moody, Mrs. W. J. Offutt, Mrs. J. B. Randle, Mrs. F. E. Sowerby, Mrs. Quincy McBride, Mrs. B. H. Kanenberg and Mrs. E. A. Fenton.

True Blue Class
The True Blue Class members of the Second U. P. Church were received in a pleasing manner Thursday evening in the home of their teacher, Mrs. Norman Patton of the Harlansburg Road.

After a short business meeting a social hour of informal Valentine games was enjoyed and Miss Julia Sidley entertained with a number of piano selections. Miss Louise Turner of Grove City, was an out of town guest.

After the games and entertainment were over the hostess served a dainty lunch, with Valentine appointments being carried out throughout the house and in the lunch, in a clever manner.

Honor Officers.
The Women's Benefit association 98 held its regular meeting Friday evening in the K. of P. hall and at the close of a short business session enjoyed an informal social hour when they presented the outgoing president, Miss Anna Patterson; the retiring financial secretary, Mrs. Hattie Nowling and the captain of the guards, Mrs. Sadie Pray, with beautiful gifts in appreciation of the splendid work they have done in the past. The women responded in a pleasing manner.

The Pioneer club women then served dainty refreshments. The club will hold its next meeting February 28.

Choir Elects Officers.
The choir of the Second United Presbyterian church held a business meeting in the church Friday evening, during which time they chose officers for the ensuing year. E. A. Caldwell was chosen president, J. C. Strimwater, vice president, Margaret Reicher secretary and Mrs. Aileen Stone treasurer.

Following the election the choir enjoyed some music and a social hour with refreshments.

Golden Beam Class Meets
The Golden Beam class of the First Methodist church, taught by Mrs. G. C. Beahm, was entertained Friday evening at the home of Dorothy Spangler, 934 Beckford street, at a Valentine party.

Music and games were the diversions of the evening and Valentine suggestions were carried out in the decorations, prizes and lunch.

SOROSIS PARTY IS FINE SUCCESS

Members of the Sorosis Club enjoyed their mid-year party in the Fountain Inn, Friday, with the husbands as guests. The scene of the occasion was attractive in its decorations of potted plants, and Valentine suggestions blending in, in a tasteful manner, forming a lovely background.

Entertainment between courses was furnished by the different ones telling jokes that proved quite amusing to everyone. A reading by William Smith, a local student, was an added feature, that was well received. The remainder of the evening was enjoyably spent in an informal manner.

Special guests for the occasion included, Mrs. Charles Greer, president of the Lawrence County Federation of Women's Clubs, Mrs. John Haley and Miss Margaret George.

The committee in charge, and who received many compliments on the success of the affair, was composed of Mrs. David Ritchie, chairman, Mrs. Harvey Robinson, Mrs. Fred Smith, Mrs. George Stone, Mrs. George White, Mrs. John Whitten, Mrs. Frank Woods, Mrs. D. B. Woolcock and Mrs. George Bell.

On February 28, Mrs. Charles Long of Moody avenue will be hostess at the regular meeting.

Carry-on-Club
Mr. and Mrs. James Bailey, of Beckford street, were pleasing hosts to the Carry-on-club when they entertained in their home Friday evening for the regular meeting, 18 members in attendance.

The house was attractively decorated in Valentine suggestions throughout, also the same was carried out in the lunch that was served at a late hour by the hostess assisted by her daughter, Ella.

"Bunko" was the chief pastime that proved highly amusing to all. Prizes were awarded to Mrs. Ben Jones, Lloyd S. Thompson and Roger Francis. At this time, the exchange of comic Valentines took place.

Mr. and Mrs. Rodger Francis and daughter Marian were special guests of the club.

Toward the close of the evening, a short business session was called, where plans were completed for an oyster supper to be held on March 8 at the home of Mrs. L. S. Thompson on Lutton street. Committee in charge comprise of Mrs. L. S. Thompson, Mrs. R. T. Johns and Mrs. C. E. Connor.

Mother's Circle Meets
The Mothers' Circle of the First Methodist church was pleasantly entertained in the home of Mrs. E. B. Bartlett, East Moody avenue, Friday afternoon for the regular monthly meeting.

The devotional period was conducted by Mrs. Ira Campbell, and Mrs. W. O. Mayberry and Mrs. Bartlett led the singing of the program. Mrs. Clark Wadding and Mrs. Eva Gerould were visitors.

Hostesses for the afternoon were Mrs. J. H. Templeton, Mrs. W. R. Wallace, Mrs. E. M. Withers and Mrs. E. C. Gatrell, and they served a delicious repast with all appointments fittingly carried out on the colors of the Valentine season.

The class will hold their next meeting, March 14, with Mrs. Frank Boal, Grant street, at which time officers will be elected.

F. O. Luncheon Club
Members of the F. O. Luncheon club met with Mrs. W. A. Wynn for a 6 o'clock dinner at her home on Beckford street Friday evening. Music and games were the enjoyments of the social period, with prizes going to Mrs. Lillian Rodgers, and Mrs. Lydia Webster.

Valentine decorations were carried out in an attractive manner, with each receiving one as a favor.

Special guests were Mrs. Wilson, Mrs. Langford, Mary Langford, and Mrs. T. H. Trodden.

On March 14, Mrs. T. H. Trodden of Leisure avenue will entertain the club at her home.

Rose of Sharon Club
The members of the Rose of Sharon club were pleasantly entertained Friday evening in the home of Ruth McCoy, Martin street, with ten members and one visitor, Mrs. Ward Fizer, present.

NEW BILL URGES 10-2 JURY VERDICTS

SENATOR BAUMES has introduced a bill in the New York legislature which would make it legal for juries to convict defendants by a vote of 10 to 2. The plan for substituting the decision of ten jurors for a unanimous verdict has been recommended by the New York Crime Commission.

It is revolutionary, of course; but the theory is that it would prevent a mistrial because of the illness of a juror, and would also end the deadlocks which often come about because of the traditional "stubborn" juror. There is bound to be a lively debate over the proposition. Yet the proposed reform has the support of many prominent judges and members of the bar, and the fate of the bill will be watched with interest in all parts of the country.

Members of the Crime Commission insist that the passage of such a law will be in line with popular sentiment and point out that decisions of Appellate Courts now only require a majority vote for a decision. "Originally," they say, "when the rule of unanimous verdict was essential the jurymen were selected because of their knowledge of the facts and circumstances of the case. Under the present system they are selected only when they have no knowledge and have formed no opinion. They are then expected to agree on a set of facts presented to them, and no flexibility is allowed to prevent a stubborn juror from holding out and thereby causing a disagreement. In many instances cases have been delayed and miscarriage of justice resulted from this provision requiring a unanimous verdict."

There is a sufficient difference of opinion on this subject to justify a full debate before a change is decided upon. But it has been urged so often in recent years that a test should be made in the legislature. Another bill recommended by the New York Crime Commission would abolish all exemptions from jury service. This sound rather drastic; there may sometimes be legitimate reasons why an exemption should be made. But the merits of that bill are also likely to be brought out in a general discussion by the members of the legislature.

THE AIR MAIL.

No less an authority than Walter F. Brown, postmaster general, says that every 24 hours the air mails are flown 40,500 miles. Some 250 pilots, some 200 planes, and some 25 contractors are engaged in seeing that the air mails get through.

The air lanes through which these skilled pilots fly aggregate about 14,400 miles. There's something dramatic about the business. "The show must go on," actors say of the stage. "The marines have landed and have the situation well in hand" are sentences spoken of confidence in the soldier-sailor branch of a government service. And that "the mails must go through" is taken as a certainty by the air-minded of this country, a group that is increasing rapidly.

The sky pilots work while we sleep. Sixty per cent of their flying is done at night. The business of carrying the mails by air is being stabilized slowly.

The pilots themselves are working toward unionization, says the Toledo Blade, to keep the pay in proportion to the risks. Postmaster General Brown says there are inequalities in paying for the work to contractors that must be changed. He says that the system in vogue of paying by the pound without taking into consideration distance flown, is unsound. Most will agree with him.

However, there is no reason to fear but that, given a little time, most of the existing inequalities will be ironed out, and proper readjustments made, and that a model air craft will result, the human cogs dovetailing and meshing exactly with the mechanical ones.

TEN RULES FOR MOTORISTS

Ten commandments for automobile drivers, a code that, if adhered to would result in a material reduction of the accident toll that now constitutes one of the greatest threats against public safety, were recently published in an exchange. Their value is obvious and, in the hope that they may really help the situation, they are reported here.

1. Drive on the right side of the road; it's just as good as the left.
2. Slow down when approaching a cross road; it is nearly as dangerous as a railroad crossing.
3. Look out for children. You can never tell what they will do, and you are always in the wrong if you hit one.
4. Try to help instead of hinder the traffic officer; he is there for your good, and he has a tough job.
5. Be sure that your "dimers" are really dim; it's no joke driving into a blinding glare, as you probably know.
6. Read and obey the warning signs; they are not put up as ornaments.
7. If you feel you have to speed, do it where it won't kill anybody but yourself.
8. When making repairs, stop where your car may be seen from both directions; otherwise you may stop longer than you anticipate.
9. Speeding around corners is a straight route to the hospital. Don't race past a stopped car. Some day the jury may call it manslaughter.
10. Use discretion. The fact that you have the right of way won't bring anybody back to life, least of all yourself.

DIAMOND JUBILEE OR RURAL SCHOOLS

The office of county superintendent of schools was created by a legislative act in 1854 after two decades of agitation. This year, therefore, marks the diamond jubilee of the date of its effectiveness. The movement is credited with achieving much in the fields of rural education.

In this connection may be noted the announcement that more than $500,000 will be spent the coming season for construction in the country districts of the state. At least ten consolidations are planned and an equal number of extensions or additions to present buildings. The merger plan is an outstanding feature in the seventy-five years of progress.

It has greatly improved sanitary conditions, contributing to child health, and on this score alone would be worth the investment even if it could claim no other beneficent results from concentrating the teaching resources available to the community.

A Real Stigma.

Who Cares For News?

By ARTHUR G. BRISBANE

WINSLOW, Ariz., Feb. 15.—This is written on "The Chief" of the Santa Fe, one of many fast trains that travel on the different trans-continental roads, from the front door of the United States on the Pacific, to the back door on the Atlantic.

You see in a 3,000-mile stretch of American territory, all sorts of lands, plains, mountains and people. At this moment the train rolls through the high hills of Arizona covered with magnificent pine trees, snow on the hills, the marvelous blue sky which according to F. G. Bonifils of the Denver Post, is limited absolutely to Colorado, and cut off all around the Colorado border like a pie crust around a pie. It will annoy Bonifils but Arizona has that sky also.

You see on this trip what early travelers and Indians called "the Bad Lands." Alkali that poisons men and animals rises to the surface and lies in white patches. There is no vegetation for man or his beast. Lizards, jack rabbits and coyotes own the territory.

Later in Chicago, New York and other big cities you will pass through other "bad lands."

The "bad lands" now become the BAD MEN.

Crime, dissipation, ignorance and desperation are written on their faces, as the alkali poison lies on the surface of the Bad Lands.

But irrigation and cultivation changes the Bad Lands to lands of great fertility, magnificent crops, irrigation bleaches out the alkali, and the rich deep soil yields wealth and happiness.

Eventually in cities, education, knowledge, kindness, opportunity will change the bad men into good men, not in one generation perhaps, but easily in two or three.

No man really WANTS to be bad, there is no man that has no GOOD WITHIN HIM.

Man is a curious animal, more than 1,000,000 years away from real civilization, and strange trifles interest him.

A Yankee to the Los Angeles railroad station a little before 10 at night and the newsboy, good judge of human nature, holding his early morning papers calls out news, that he feels sure will interest you deeply.

It has nothing to do with the naval conference, the gigantic Pacific on your right, the stars over your head, or the government at Washington to the East.

The boy calls out "Extra John Gilbert will fight Tully again."

John Gilbert, you should know, is a good looking moving picture actor. Mr. Tully writes for a living and Mr. Gilbert disliked something that Mr. Tully wrote, so that Mr. Gilbert, whose moving picture training makes him a hero under all circumstances, rushed at Mr. Tully and was knocked flat on his back. Mr. Tully has developed toughness.

Still a hero undismayed, Mr. Gilbert let the world know that when he meets Mr. Tully again there will be another terrific battle, and the newsboy cries the challenge into the night.

If the newspaper has announced on the front page, "The circle has been squared" or "Einstein recants and apologizes to Newton" or "All the lost poems of Sappho have been found," the newsboy would still have shouted through the night air, "Gilbert will fight Tully again."

Five states of the South, highest in illiteracy, are conducting educational campaigns to reduce "The Stigma."

Census takers list illiterates: Iowa has only 1.1 per cent of illiterates, lowest in the nation. Nebraska came first until 1920, and is striving to regain the championship.

However persuading or forcing hard working people to study at night when they are tired out, and learn about their A B C's to remove the illiteracy stigma is not doing much.

To be ABLE to read and write, when you lack LEISURE to do either, and have no access to books worth while is no help.

As well teach a man five thousand miles from Egypt to read hieroglyphics on Egyptian monuments.

Hard, underpaid labor and lack of work are a "STIGMA" worse than illiteracy.

In this part of the world news day by day seems not important, you hardly miss it. Looking out of the car windows, toward the north, over rolling hills and plains, or toward the south, where Byrd is worrying his way home, what they are doing back of you in Chicago, Boston, New York seems unimportant.

Today's newspaper, if you had it, would say that Uncle Sam is trying to prevent the use of submarines, France and Japan won't let him.

In Washington, solemn men with long faces, are saying that prohibition is a perfect success and we ought to have more of it, while men with round, plump faces, say that prohibition is a complete failure, and we ought not to have any of it.

You know that stocks are probably wobbling, from side to side, not going up or down, waiting for the little Wall Street lambs to grow a new crop of tender dollar-mark wool, and being out of the market, you don't care.

"What has become of all the cracked and scratched phonograph records?" asks an exchange. They are being put on the air by a lot of broadcasting stations, apparently. — The Lynchburg News.

THE SURPLUS FUND

When business meetings I attend I hear no word of dividend, But learn the cash I hoped to win The surplus fund has gathered in.

The president reports: "Last year We made a million dollars clear." Then by this news I'm fairly stunned: "We've put it in the surplus fund!"

So to my creditors I say: "I'm sorry that I cannot pay This bill for which I'm being dunned. My cash is in the surplus fund."

Definite Results Expected From Investigation In Haiti

Hope Is Expressed For Withdrawal Of Forces Of United States But Opinions Differ As To Feasibility

Selection of a commission to investigate conditions in Haiti, once more stirs debate on that mooted question concerning American military forces in foreign lands. Meanwhile the personnel of the commission appears to meet with approval and its verdict is awaited with interest.

"Not since Ellihu Root made his expedition to the other Americans" have we had so hefty a commission as that while Mr. Hoover proposes for the investigation," says the NEW YORK EVENING POST. "The artillery may seem a bit too heavy for Haiti, but it isn't. That strange, dark country raises an essentially American issue, and nothing that we can do to settle it is too much. Incidentally, we are glad to see the President getting back into the public service, trained 'pro-consuls' like W. Cameron Forbes, former Governor General of the Philippines, and Henry P. Fletcher, former Ambassador."

THE HOUSTON CHRONICLE also praises Mr. Fletcher, saying that his knowledge of the problems of Central America and the Caribbean probably is not exceeded by that of any man in public life. The Houston paper warns against "the advice which some demagogic persons give the government that 'the way to get out is to get out' and adds: "Naturally we cannot do that. We cannot get out unconditionally—and that quite aside from any view about how we came to be there. We can get out only when we can leave a stable government behind us, and doing that in such a country as Haiti calls for the hard labor of statesmen, not at all for the phrase making of uninformed extremists back home."

In view of the controversy over the proper size of the commission, the SPRINGFIELD REPUBLICAN holds that "it makes precious little difference whether the commission has one member or seven members, if its work is competent or satisfactory," and that paper argues: "The history of American commissions that have studied the highly controverted questions with large political possibilities indicates that a multibanded commission is preferable, politically considered if it submits a unanimous report. If it disagrees, it may cause more trouble than it is worth."

An existing difficulty which is pointed out by the NEW YORK HERALD TRIBUNE is that "our efforts toward fostering practical education in Haiti have been bitterly resented by the educated Haitians. They see in them," continues The Herald Tribune, "an effort at the destruction of the classic French culture which they themselves have pursued and an implied slur on the Haitian people. It is not enough to argue that our attempts to establish a practical educational system for the country people have been well intentioned or that the upper-class Haitians represent only a small fraction of the population. They cannot be disregarded because they are the only vocal force in the community. And an inquiry undertaken to ascertain how soon we can evacuate cannot antagonize the class which must necessarily take over authority from us when we relinquish it. The educational problem is complex, and Dr. Moton will have to exercise great tact in approaching it. He will need to make the fact abundantly clear that he goes to Haiti with no thought of interfering with the established culture of the educated few, but solely to grapple with the unsolved problem of the ignorant many."

"A commission of disinterested persons, acting wholly outside of politics and composed of men of affairs, anxious to do a public duty, capable of making an unbiased inquiry into Haitian affairs, ought to give us the right light on our position now and our policy in the future," declares the WATERLOO TRIBUNE. The CHARLESTON DAILY MAIL feels that "it would be a happy thing for this country if the report should result in a program which would restore a stable self-government to Haitians and relieve this country of an unwelcome responsibility."

"Even as the inquiry is being made," says the OAKLAND TRIBUNE, "the public may expect to hear demands that the Marines be recalled and the Haitians allowed to care for themselves. It is the easiest thing to say on the subject, but not necessarily true or just." The SOUTH BEND TRIBUNE offers the verdict: "Protection of life and property after the Marines are withdrawn must be the broad goal. Whatever is done must represent cooperative effort, with the Haitians taking full part."

The CINCINNATI TIMES STAR is convinced that "the bulk of American opinion favors our leaving as soon as possible," and adds that "the President's statement leaves no doubt that he shares this opinion." The SANTA BARBARA DAILY NEWS thinks "the Hoover commission ought to result in presenting a clear and plain statement of the true conditions in Haiti."

The UTICA OBSERVER-DISPATCH finds that there is "wonder whether, before the lapse of a long time, it will be possible for Haitians to govern themselves without falling into violence, disordered finances, bloodshed and anarchy." The PETERSBURG PROGRESS-INDEX concludes: "Every sign points to the early withdrawal of American armed forces. It is well assured that little time will elapse following American withdrawal before conditions in the country will approximate those existing when President Wilson was moved to order Marines to land and assume control."

"With the background of Haiti what it was for some centuries, with the widespread suspicion at home that American occupation has put its full stress upon keeping the lid on rather than development, and with just six more years of the protectorate left before a new crisis must be faced," says the BALTIMORE SUN, "it is essential that America know minutely and accurately all that can be known about what errors have been made, and what steps to correct them can be taken."

BEAUTY HELPS

Don't smile at the beauty column in the newspaper. It contains important information. J. G. William Greef, commissioner of hospitals in New York, proposes a municipal beauty clinic to help handicapped persons to get jobs. The clinic will be set up in one of the hospitals. It will take care of many things that blemish beauty, from warts to black eyes and cauliflower ears.

AS TO GETTING ON

Be enthusiastic. Give the boss more than he expects. Have confidence in your superiors.

So says Walter P. Chrysler in giving a formula for success. And to the boss he says:

Develop a spirit of co-operation. Bring out the best that is in your men. When you select men for big executive jobs, have the courage to delegate responsibility.

"I want my important executives to make decisions themselves, and quickly. I don't want them saying, 'I'll put this up to Chrysler.' The right kind of an executive can take responsibility. You'll be surprised how some men will deliver for you when you put them on their own."

INITIATE

WORDS of Walter P. Chrysler, one of the most successful motor manufacturers in the world, will be listened to by young men everywhere. No great success was ever made in the rut, in the routine. No great success was ever made outside the army, by merely following orders. Anybody who is not hopelessly dumb can follow orders. Big success comes not through experience but through the courage of initiating. Initiate! Take responsibility. Judgment grows strong by exercise.

THE PERFECT KID

What is a perfect youngster between the ages of two and six? Perhaps you know. Perhaps you have one. You will be interested in this size-up by Columbia university educators. This is their picture of the perfect youngsters of from two to six: "Knocks down little girls who snatch his hat."

Goes to school willingly. Shakes hands if he likes your looks. Knows a funny story. Hangs up his clothes without orders.

Laces his own shoes. Says "Please" and "Thank you." Accepts punishment without resentment.

The World

AND THE

THE CHINESE WAY.

A recent decree drawn up by the Central Executive Committee of the Nationalist Government of China makes every able bodied male between the ages of eighteen and fifty liable to draft for work on the good-roads program which has been formulated for that country. Indifference of a large section of the population to the scheme for the national highways caused the issuance of the decree.

Motor travel is still almost impossible in the rural districts of China, and few people have either seen an automobile or care to look at one. Ownership of a car is not even dreamed. Under these conditions the government scheme for a network of highways was dying of lassitude.

Enforcement of the decree is expected to put life into the project. Under the orders, all laborers drafted for service will receive their board and their families will be given maintenance doles. Those unwilling to work will be exempted on payment of a fee.

If some of that sort of medicine was handed out by the government of the cities, counties and states of this Nation, there might be fewer bandits. Surely the bonded indebtedness of the various political sub-divisions would not be so large.

Facial Series At Central Church
Dr. C. B. Wingerd To Start New Series Of Sermons On Sunday Night

It seems to be the policy of the Central Presbyterian church to present for their evening services, certain outlines of sermons in series. The people in their faithful attendance seem to appreciate and request it.

Dr. Chas. B. Wingerd has announced a very short series, to be termed "The Facial Series." The subjects are "The Face of a Man," "The Face of a Lion," "The Face of an Ox," "The Face of an Eagle." The face is the thing that counts. What money is spent to beautify or lift it. Long ago the church took the four faces described by the prophet and gave them to the four evangelists—giving Matthew the face of a man, Mark the face of a lion, Luke the face of an ox and John the face of an eagle. What our faces do tell. You say, "I like that face" or "I don't like that face." Who is responsible for our faces, our parents or ourselves? How can we make the best of them?

Liberty Grange To Meet On Tuesday
Lantern Slides Of Washington, D. C., Lincoln Will Be Projected

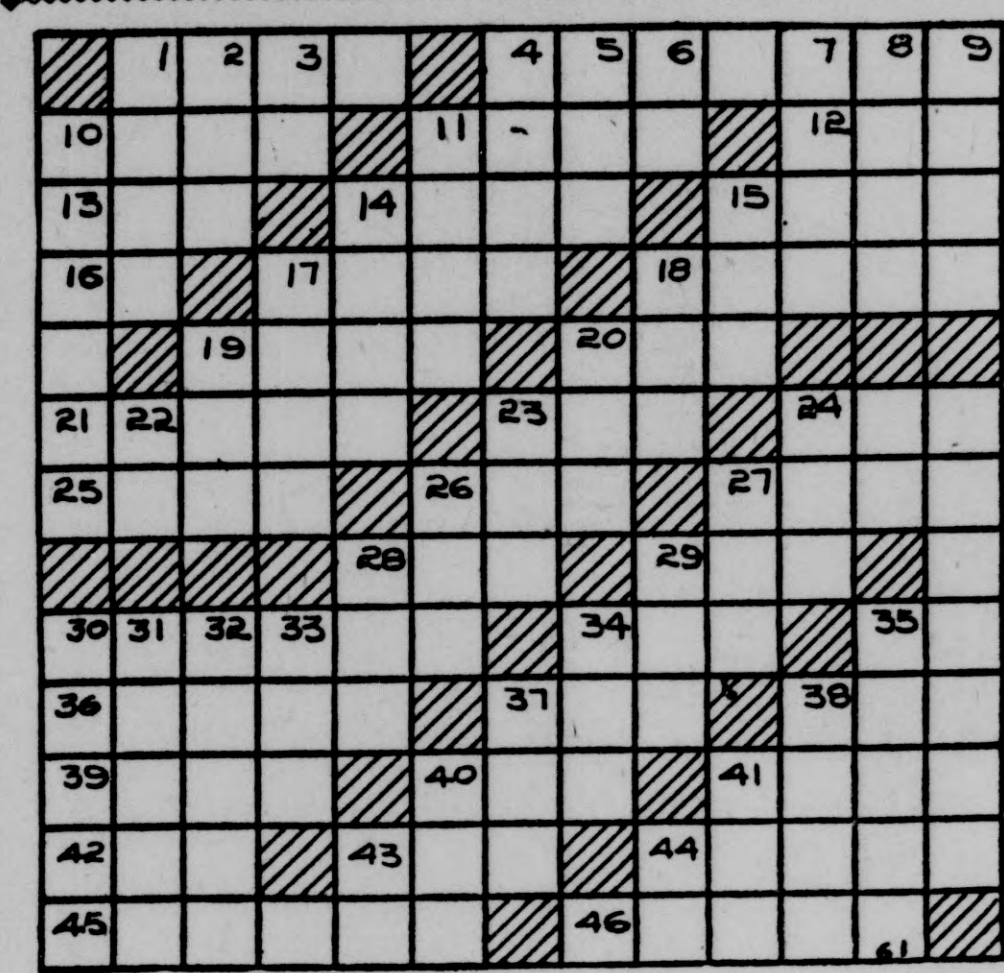

Lantern slides showing scenes around Washington, D. C., and of Abraham Lincoln will be projected at the regular meeting of the membership of Liberty grange on Tuesday evening, February 18.

A business meeting will precede the showing of slides.

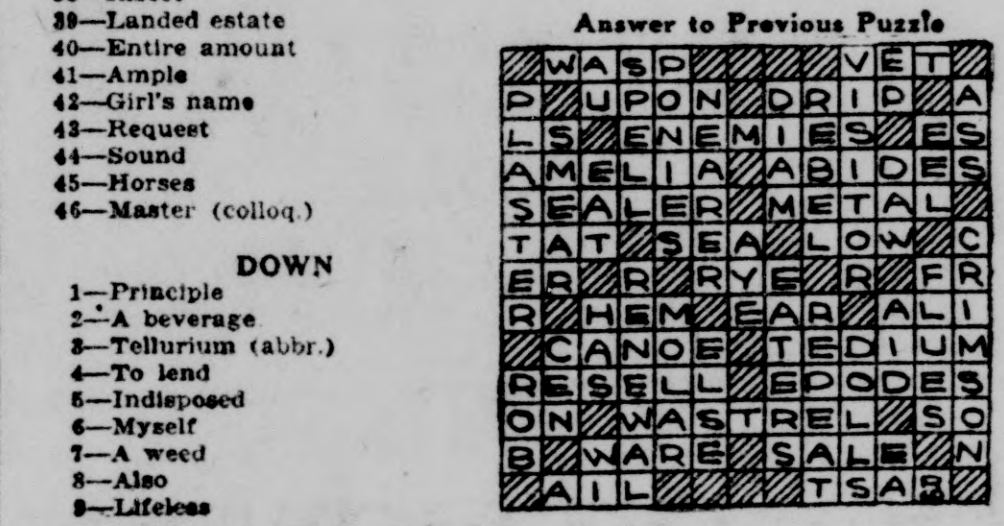

The grange did not meet on the last regular date due to the fact that there was sickness in the community.

Peter's Adventures

DRAGON-FLY FAILS AS "LOOK-OUT"

"Better get out of the way, you two," warned Dragon-Fly, still on scout duty in the air above the heads of Peter and Lady Bug. Then Dragon-Fly made a queer sound that sounded like nothing so much as a sob.

"What's the matter, dear old chap?" asked Peter. When Dragon-Fly answered there was a catch in his breath.

"I sort of wish I had not lived such a wild life and been so mean to some of the insects!" shrilled he.

"What makes you wish that at this time in the day?" demanded Lady Bug. "You never felt so before, did you?"

"Never!" confessed Sir Dragon-Fly. "But I noticed that some among younder mob are hesitating; almost it seems as though they were going to turn back. They have seen me. That's what it means. I'm sure of it! Oh deary me, I am going to frighten the insects away at the very time I do not wish to. There won't be any circus. I guess I better be off!"

"Well, don't let us detain you!" said Lady Bug, briskly. "It's just too bad, of course, but if you must be gone, you must!" Peter, however, felt sorry for Sir Dragon-Fly, who saw how foolish he had been.

"Come out of the sky and stand here beside us," said the boy. "Then the insects will not see you until they are within shouting distance, and I can step forward and tell them the promise you made not to hurt them."

"A great idea!" declared Lady Bug, who never made much ado about matters. "Either of us insects could chirp or squeak ourselves back in the face of the mob and would not listen. But if the boy says so they will believe him. All the insects like this young human and trust him!"

"That's the kind of a reputation to have!" remarked Dragon-Fly sadly as he dropped at Peter's side. "However, mine is not all my fault. Now if only I had been brought up differently. However—"

APPEAL DAMAGE AWARD BY JURY

Case In Which Insurance Company Is Real Defendant Appealed To Supreme Court

MERCER, Pa., Feb. 15.—An appeal of the state in the common pleas action in which E. W. Filer of Mercer is plaintiff and F. P. Filer of Mercer defendant. The action was tried in the county court last May, when a verdict for $15,000 was awarded the plaintiff by the jury.

The action was brought to recover for the death of the plaintiff's wife, Gertrude Filer, killed in an automobile accident three years prior. Following the verdict an appeal was taken by the defendant asking for a new trial in the county court. In a recent opinion filed Judge J. A. McLaughry refused another hearing.

Brookway and Whittall and W. C. Pettit, who represent the defendant, have filed an appeal with the supreme court and are taking the necessary legal steps toward this end.

While the action was against F. P. Filer, it is the insurance company that is the real defendant in the action.

IS JAILED AGAIN
Wayne Eekies of Greenville, aged 24, was brought to the county jail today charged with disorderly conduct. It is claimed by county officials that Eekies has served time 15 times.

Brotherhood of Croton M. E. Hears Erie Pastor Speak

Loyalty Is Subject Of Address By Dr. A. C. Locke, Former
Lawrence County Boy

Dr. A. C. Locke, district superintendent of the Erie district of the Methodist Episcopal church delivered a splendid address on the subject of Loyalty before the Second Mile Brotherhood of the Croton M. E. church last evening.

Dr. Locke is a former Lawrence County boy and was born and raised at Harlansburg. Dr. Locke's ancestors were among the earliest settlers in the county, his great grandfather coming to Harlansburg soon after the Revolutionary War. His grandfather, he stated, was foreman of the first grand jury which ever sat in Lawrence County and his mother united with the First M. E. church in New Castle 77 years ago.

Dr. Locke stated that life is made up of the things that we are loyal to. He stated that the loyalty which caused men to flounder through the mud of Flanders Fields and then to return here and break the laws of their land was misplaced.

He decried the practice of outstanding citizens in refusing to serve on the juries of our courts. Although loyal in other things they were not altogether loyal to their country in so refusing.

He urged the men present to be loyal to their marriage vows and to their name, citing the great Robert L. Lee, who was approached by a group of men who wanted to put across a shady deal. Although his fortunes had been sadly depleted through the Civil War, General Lee refused to go in with the scheme, stating that he still had an untarnished name to be loyal to.

In conclusion, he urged his audience to be loyal to their God, as their greatest obligation.

Preceding the program of the evening, the women of the church served a most appetizing dinner. A feature of the evening was a duet, sung by Tom Hinkson and W. H. Rock, whose combined age is over the 150 mark. The next dinner of the Brotherhood will be held on March 14, when Dr. Clarence E. Allen of Erie, one of the outstanding pastors of the Erie district, will be the speaker.

Third Commandment Is Sermon Subject

Rev. C. S. Joshua Takes Up The Third Commandment In Series Of Sermons

Widespread interest is being manifested in the series of Sunday evening sermons being given by Rev. C. S. Joshua, pastor of the Croton Avenue Methodist church. A series of ten sermons is being given on the commandments and Sunday evening he will take up the third one, "Thou Shalt Not Take the Name of the Lord Thy God in Vain" and a forceful and masterful sermon is sure to be propounded on the subject.

The auditorium of the church has been filled to capacity to hear the discourses on the first two commandments. There will be special singing by the choir under the direction of Mrs. A. C. Bernard and Violet Schuler will play the organ prelude preceding the sermon.

THE ROAMING SPOON

I head tea with a stout lit'ry lady the other day and the spoon she handed me to operate with bore the insignia of the New Yorker hotel. I didn't say anything, but before leaving, I adroitly not to say gracefully, transferred the spoon from my saucer to my pocket.

I recalled, at the recent opening of the hotel, the hoiy to have let loose by Ralph Hitz, general manager, over the invited guests had made on the silver, coffee pots, lamps and even telephone sets.

I took the spoon for the purpose of returning it to Ted Saucier, genial, talented and urbane publicity director of the inn. I gave the spoon to the Duchess to mind for me till I got around to mailing it to Ted. She used it at a coffee klatch last Thursday, and—presto, the spoon disappeared.

I feel that I owe both the stout lit'ry lady and Ted Saucier an apology, herewith tendered.

Prayer In Congress

The house met at 12 o'clock noon and was called to order by the speaker.

The chaplain, Rev. James Shera Montgomery, D. D., offered the following prayer:

If the Lord be God, follow Him.
O let not these words rebuke us, but in gratitude, in words of prayer, and bowed at Thy altar may we confess our sins and declare our allegiance to Thee. Forbid that we should go forth alone; be Thou our Lord, our life, and our glory. We thank Thee for the great men who are the heritage of our land. Today a peerless soul sits by the fireside of our country's heart. He never spoke to widen the chasm but always to heal the breach. O Lord God, while that voice so wise in counsel is hushed, while the hand that guided the destinies of our Republic has fallen, and while great events can not break his calm repose, A may we, the living, renew our pledge of patriotic devotion and fidelity at this capitol shrine and work and pray for the nation's highest good. Through Jesus Christ our Lord. Amen.

Annual observance of Lincoln's Birthday by Oscar L. Jackson Camp No. 249, Sons of Union Veterans, was held Friday evening in the Sons of Union Veterans Hall in the city building.

Past Division Commander Ralph M. Campbell was chairman of the meeting and the program included two fine addresses by Dr. C. C. Green and Attorney Frank A. Hover on Lincoln, from their own respective viewpoints.

The addresses were instructive and most interesting and greatly appreciated by all those so fortunate as to hear them. Chairman Campbell made some interesting remarks concerning the coming state encampment of the G. A. R. and affiliated organizations. The meeting was fittingly opened by the audience singing America.

By Flames

(International News Service)
PITTSBURGH, Feb. 15.—Thirty girls, all about twenty years old, were routed from their beds and several were bundled in blankets and carried to safety by firemen here today when fire swept through the second and third floors of the Turtle Creek Branch of the Young Women's Christian Association.

In the confusion that followed the first alarm, many of the girls became panic-stricken. A few became hysterical and were carried from the structure by the fire fighters.

The fire is believed to have originated on the third floor and spread to the second floor, where the girls' dormitory is located, before being discovered. Origin of the blaze was undetermined.

Damage was slight and firemen confined the flames to the second and third floors.

(International News Service)
CHICAGO, Feb. 15.—Another slaying was added to Chicago's crime record today with the finding of the bullet-riddled body of Tony Lombardo, 25-year-old bootlegging racketeer and underworld character.

Lombardo had been lured or driven into an alley and then slain. He was shot through the head and the body with a double barreled shotgun and a revolver, evidently wielded by two men.

The shotgun was found fifteen feet from the body where it had been tossed when the assassins fled.

Youthful Robber Is Identified By Cincinnati Banker

(International News Service)
CLEVELAND, Feb. 15.—Oliver Brockman, employee of the Provident Savings Bank and Trust Company Cincinnati, today identified Charles (Sonny) Hanovich, 22, as one of the bandits who staged a robbery in the Cincinnati bank last November 27 and escaped with $13,000.

Hanovich is the companion of George Williams, 68-year-old quick-triggered desperado, who has already confessed to two murders and participation in more than 200 holdups.

Following his identification, Hanovich "came clean" with a story of his and Williams' crime trail in Ohio. He described the fatal shooting of Justus Brown, Columbus grocer, and the holdup of a Columbus bank.

Urge Increase Of Spanish-American War Vets' Pensions

Three Petitions Are Presented To Congress By Swick

Three petitions, one of them from residents of New Castle, urging the enactment of the pending legislation to increase the government pensions of veterans of the Spanish American war and widows of veterans have been submitted to the House of Representatives by J. Howard Swick.

The three petitions had been signed respectively by Frank S. Nessel, Orrille Van Horn, and 24 other citizens of New Castle; Edgar A. Negley and 67 other residents of Butler and vicinity; and Kenneth R. Morrison and 116 other citizens of Allegheny and Hopewell Township, Beaver county.

All three resolutions have been referred to the House Committee on Pensions.

COATESVILLE, Pa., Feb. 15.—Benson E. Taylor, 68, state secretary of property and supplies, "slept fairly well last night and his condition is the same today," Coatesville hospital attendants said today.

The aged Harrisburg official is suffering from a slight concussion of the brain, bruises and shock, sustained in an automobile accident near here yesterday. His condition is not regarded as serious by the attending physicians.

Use Of Helmets By Taxi Drivers Not Legal, Is Asserted

(International News Service)
LEWISTOWN, Pa., Feb. 15.—The use of steel, over-seas helmets by civilian taxi-cab drivers during the strike now going on in Pittsburgh is contrary to United States military regulations, according to Captain S. C. Lighthill, a reserve officer attached to the 354th Engineers, stationed here.

"Steel helmets are part of the uniform of the United States army and civilians are not allowed to wear them," the captain said in protesting the use of them by the drivers who are being hurled at "strike-breakers" in the smoky city.

Pension Increases Planned For Widows

Two New Castle women and one Butler woman, widows of civil war veterans, would get increases in their government pensions under a bill introduced in the House of Representatives by J. Howard Swick.

The beneficiaries of the three bills are Annie E. Wallace of 221 Pearson street, New Castle, widow of Jacob Wallace, who served in Companies G and I, 100th Pennsylvania Volunteer Infantry; Rebecca McGurdy, 728 Butler avenue, New Castle, widow of John McGurdy of Company B, 124th Pennsylvania Volunteer Infantry; and Kate Teets, 321 Mifflin street, Butler, widow of Albert Teets of Company D, 11th Pennsylvania Volunteer Infantry.

The bills, which would raise all three pensions from forty to fifty dollars per month, have been referred to the House Committee on Invalid Pensions.

Captain Wilkins On Way To Montevideo

(International News Service)
SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 15.—Captain Sir Hubert Wilkins, explorer who was lost for weeks in the vast ice seas of the Antarctic, today was en route to Montevideo on the steamship Henrik Ibsen, having sailed yesterday from Deception Island, according to a copyrighted story in the San Francisco Examiner.

The Examiner's radio station KUP received direct word from Deception Island that Sir Hubert and his companions, unheard of for three weeks while on the steamship William Scoresby, arrived safely at the island and left at once for Montevideo.

ROAMING With Richards

Some News, Some Views, But Mostly Just Observations
Of Interesting Things Around New Castle

There's a penalty for shooting rabbits out of season, but this is only for shooting them with a gun. If there is a penalty for shooting them with an automobile, Jack Sines will be in The News office before dark. And whatever the fine is, will have to be charged.

Hit one last night on the Wilmington road but didn't quite knock him out. Just one of those glancing blows that had him a hobbling over to the weeds beside the road. There seemed to be a convention of them out that way last night, and especially down the driveway leading to the field club.

The one in question dashed out of the weeds and attempted to cross the road in front of the car. He wasn't quite fast enough.

In the event that charges of hunting out of season are preferred, I have a good case at any rate. First it was a case of self defense. The rabbit jumped out at me from the darkness of the weeds. Maybe he had a gun or a knife, I don't know. Second he tried to shove the car off the road with his nose. Third, he tried to bite out a spoke of the wheel.

In addition, the rabbit was wild and who can say what a wild animal would do. Think of a wild tiger, or a wild elephant, or a wild panther. It was late at night and perhaps the rabbit had been out at some low drinking party and was all filled up with hooch. The kind that makes a rabbit in a bull dog's eye. Or bite spokes out of wheels.

The person was in again yesterday with a new Scotch story. This one was about the Scot who got married and who was so frustrated at the ceremony that he kissed the minister and gave the bride a ten dollar bill.

From some of the information dropped around lately, the automobile show scheduled for the last two days of February and the first of March is going to be a real uptown display of gas guzzlers. Right now any dealer entered in the show will break right down and confess that he will have the keenest display in the show. A car for any pocketbook, except perhaps the one that has flattened out.

ATWELL AWARDED STILLMAN PRIZE

Grove City College Student Given Recognition For Outstanding Work

GROVE CITY, Feb. 15.—Robert Atwell has been chosen by the faculty of Grove City college as the winner of the Stillman prize. Every year a $50 check is given to the man of the graduating class whose record in many fields of activity during his years in college indicates that he has qualities most essential for success in late life.

The ward was established a number of years ago by H. H. Stillman and is administered by the Christian Board of Education of the Presbyterian church.

This year's winner is certainly deserving of the honor, having distinguished himself by his accomplishments in the various activities he has participated in as well as in his studies. Robert Atwell is active in every phase of college life, and his many friends are congratulating him upon the honor which he achieved.

JAMES A. REAGLE
James A. Reagle, 57, died at his home on State street, following an illness of five weeks.

Mr. Reagle was a resident of Grove City for the past five years, moving from Franklin where he lived 11 years. He was born in Raymilton, near Franklin. He was a member of the First Presbyterian church here and the I. O. O. F. of Franklin. He was employed as an engineer at the Cooper-Bessemer plant.

Surviving are his widow, Mrs. Alice M. Snyder Reagle, one daughter, Mrs. Andrew Shaw, Cleveland, Ohio, two sons, Homer of Grove City and Harold of Cleveland, O., one sister and two brothers, Mrs. Stella Reagle, Greenville, Morris, Hubbard, O., and Fulton, Sharon, also his mother, Mrs. Mary Reagle of Greenville and two grandchildren.

Funeral services were held at 2 p. m. Friday from his late home with Rev. C. H. Williamson officiating. Interment was in the Sandy Lake cemetery.

Humorous Play For East N. C. Grange

Will Present "Her Honor The Mayor" At School On February 25

"Her Honor the Mayor" is what the play to be given by the East New Castle grange in the auditorium of the Shenango township high school on Tuesday evening, February 25, is entitled. The performance will start at 8 o'clock.

The cast of characters follows:
Lester Parmenter, candidate for mayor—George Crabbe.
Hon. Mike McGoun, political boss—Floyd Geiger.
Eve Greenway, Lester's fiancée, who becomes the mayor—Madora Morris.
Clarence Greenway, Eve's brother—Sanford Crabbe.
Mrs. McNabb, widow and suffrage leader—Mrs. Anna Arnold.
Rosalee Meyers, wealthy chum of Doris Denton—Victoria Saesam.
Doris Denton, an athletic bud—Elizabeth Arnold.
Eliza Geober, Eve's colored cook—Mrs. C. M. Hartzel.

Between acts there will be a reading by Mrs. G. L. Reno and music by members of the school orchestra.

Bessemer High School Notes

The final number on the current year's Lyceum Course was given Wednesday, February 12, in the school auditorium. The program was presented by Vierra's Hawaiians, a group of five talented singers and musicians. With the stage setting arranged like a typical Hawaiian scene, including a smoking volcano, a seashore, palm trees, and a beautiful moon, there was little to be desired in the way of realistic background. Violin solos, piano renditions, and steel guitar numbers provided a pleasant type of entertainment. The whole series of five number on this year's calendar of Lyceum events has been well attended and highly satisfactory.

Bessemer High school's entrants in the County Musical and Literary Contest held Tuesday evening at Shenango were Jane Gilmore, of the Junior Class and Jacob Levinson, of the Senior Class. The former had the piano solo and the latter the oration. Bessemer was awarded first place in the oration.

The senior boys of the football squad received their sweaters Wednesday. In addition to the letter "B" across the front, each sweater revealed a small "30" and the nickname of the owner. The six senior boys receiving sweaters were—Thayer Martin, Joe Equaro, John Vlah, Jacob Levinson, Conrad Plevnic and Walter Nord.

The Junior cast in the play "The Hoodoo", to be given March 15, was chosen by Miss McLennahan, who is in charge. The characters are: Brighton Early—Edward Seltzer; Billy Jackson—Frank Stanish; Prof. Solomon Spiggot—Joe Wolfe; Hemachus Spiggot—Sterling McKee.

Malachi Mack—Joe Polis; Mr. Dun—Charles Griffin; Amy Lee—Frances Griffin; Mrs. Perrington-Shine—Vera Sepic; Gendolyn Perrington-Shine—Jane Gilmore.

Dodo de Graft—Thelma DeArment; Mrs. Ima Glinger—Eleanor Throop; Angelina—Margaret Davidson; Doris Ruffles—Rose Solvesky.

Mrs. Semiramis Spiggot—Blanche Hoard.
Eupepsia Spiggot—Ellen Maley.
Miss Longnecker—Leona Van Tassel.
Lulu—Anna Hulina.

Teaching Children To Read Well One Of Big School Problems

Entirely New Methods Are Used In Schools Of Today In Teaching Children

ABC's No Longer Necessary
For Children To Learn
New Words, Pictures
Substitute

In the article submitted today by Miss Anna R. Perry, principal of the Terrace avenue school, the art of reading is discussed in an interesting manner. The article is one of a series being contributed by local educators on the various phases of school work in New Castle. The article follows:

"Every pupil in our public school system is entitled to opportunities to acquire skill in reading as it is the most important subject in our elementary school curriculum. To teach every child to read well and to teach him to enjoy reading is a big problem for any teacher at the present time. In order to meet the individual needs of the children we must know exactly what every child is to master and how well he is to master it. We know from experience that the worst thing that we can possibly do for a child's eye habits in the early part of his reading education is to give him reading that is too difficult for his reading ability, and the best thing we can do for him is to give him plenty of easy reading material in which he learns to read by reading, and in this way he gains fluency, interest and vocabulary. At the very beginning of each semester the teacher determines by reading tests each child's reading ability. He must have many books to fit his ability; an opportunity to read orally to the teacher alone instead of the class as a whole; and many tests in comprehension with our own prepared material.

Learning at Six
Learning to read at the age of six years is a delightful adventure. To most children entering the room for the first time to see large painted pictures just the height of his eye of Jack Horner, Miss Muffet, The Three Bears, all his old time friends with whom he has become well acquainted in his picture books at home? If he is of an inquisitive mind, he will raise his eyes above the blackboard and see large painted scenes from the Gingerbread Boy, The Three Pigs, The Three Kittens, etc., that make him feel that he is at home looking at the pictures in his picture books at home? It isn't long until he spies the sand table with another familiar story illustrated on it, while near by a number of small chairs around a long table that is covered with attractive books filled with familiar pictures of easy stories. By the time he has seen many of these old book friends he has become interested, enthusiastic and happy. Unconsciously he has acquired the right attitude toward the beginning of his school work.

Numerous activities give him the necessary background and experiences such as helping to compose the first reading lesson, to things in which he is vitally interested as birthday parties, auto rides, toys, games, neighbor friends, home life, etc.

It isn't long until he has learned stories that he can dramatize, illustrate on the sand-table, on the blackboard, and on paper. He soon recognizes printed names of characters in his stories; learns to match words and phrases on cards with words and phrases on the blackboard and in his book; can name objects printed below pictures pasted on car board; and best of all makes his own little booklet which he takes home with him when finished. For this booklet he brings cut out pictures under which the skillful teacher pastes typewritten sentences. The greater the ability of the child the more sentences he has typewritten under the pictures. The number of sentences makes an incentive to grow in his ability to read inasmuch as a special honor is conferred upon the pupil with the most sentences in his booklet. In this way he is soon ready to read easy stories from the primers that are attractively illustrated and have the new type that is suitable for the eyes of small children.

Second Grade
In the second grade the teacher seeks to develop interest in library books and supplementary readers. These library books having beautiful illustration and interesting stories are so placed that any child may take his own previously assigned book to suit his ability whenever he has finished his assigned work. During definite library periods the reading is checked and each book completed is credited upon the child's own library card. Many supplementary books containing stories not too difficult for the child to read both silently and orally are used by the class in groups. Power in attacking material is developed through phonetic training and discovering the word from the pictures and from the content while reading. The ability to read both orally and silently with both comprehension and speed is developed through the use of a great variety of material which also acts as an incentive to individual progress as it is available to be used by the child at any time when he has completed his regular assignment.

In the third grade the class is divided into groups in order that the teacher may have oral reading with one group while the other group works on different contracts to suit the ability of that group. These contracts consist of speedographed copies of silent reading questions that are checked daily. As an incentive for outside reading a library book club is always in progress. There is a suggestive list of library books for the third grade posted in the room which any child can consult and select one with the help of the teacher. When a child has read a book from the public or home library he gives a short book report orally to the teacher and also tells to her the color of the book. This child makes a simple little book of the same color as the book he read. On the inside is pasted the name of the book. This little booklet is then pasted on a chart beside his name which hangs on the wall.

In the fourth grade close attention is given to correct pronunciation and meaning of words through daily drill. The pupils are divided into groups as to their ability to read orally and comprehend the silent reading material. As the pupils answer on paper prepared questions on the contents of their basic reader and on a duplicated copy of comprehensive material the teacher hears individual pupils read and grades each one. As soon as the pupil finishes the assigned work on the board and duplicated material from the fourth grade room library suitable to his reading ability. When he has finished this book and has been orally questioned upon the story, he is then ready to be assigned another book. At the close of each reading lesson the reading questions are checked and marks recorded.

Five and Six
In the fifth and the sixth grade the pupils are divided into six groups according to their ability in reading and their individual differences. This grouping is based upon the results of the Monroe Standard tests which are given at the beginning of the semester. Prior to the class period questions on the board are written on the basic reader for the day and also typewritten sheets containing instructions for silent reading are prepared for each group. The first activity of the reading period is a drill on the meanings of the vocabulary words on the day's lesson in the basic reader which have been given out the day previous for home study. The next step is a drill on the pronunciation of the difficult vocabulary words for the next lesson. Attention is then called to the result of the previous day's silent reading by pointing out the mistakes of those who have done poor work. Each pupil now proceeds with his own work by answering the questions that have been prepared on the basic reader. He then works on his typewritten sheet which contains instructions and problems based on the story from the silent reading, or on synonyms, opposites, and matching tests. When he has finished this assignment, he reads the lesson on the basic reader for himself. He then gets a library book which is graded to the ability of his group. When he has completed reading this book, he writes a short book review in which he gives the title, the author, and a brief summary of the parts that he enjoyed most. This activity bears rich fruit in the English class. While in attacking new material on their problems, the teacher hears one member from each of the six groups read individually from one lesson in the basic reader. As each child finishes his oral reading, the teacher gives him a grade in her daily record book letting the child see just what the teacher thinks of his work. At the close of the period the silent reading is checked. The teacher not only has a record of each pupil on the silent reading questions, but also has a rating for one pupil from each group level of ability in the class.

THE 1930 NASH "400"

Built-in automatic radiator shutters mean
SUPERIOR PERFORMANCE!

EVERY Nash "400" model is now equipped with built-in automatic radiator shutters—a feature of superior performance which Nash alone offers in all three Nash price groups. The opening and closing of Nash radiator shutters is automatic—nothing to push or pull—controlled by a thermostat—accurate and invariable. It keeps Nash motors operating at the most efficient engine temperature in any weather. And this is only one of many new features of these superior motor cars. Centralized chassis lubrication in every "400" model is another. Twin cowl ventilators and adjustable drivers' seats are others. All Twin-Ignition Eight and Six models have lifetime lubricated springs with flexible steel spring covers. And all Twin-Ignition Eight models are equipped with Duplate non-shatterable plate glass as standard equipment at no extra cost.

Veiled Charges Are Hurlled In Council Discussion Of Disorderly House Measure

While councilmen were in session on Friday, discussion of an ordinance known as the "Disorderly House" ordinance, was called up for discussion, and created considerable lively debate, during which some veiled insinuations were hurled by various members of council, as to the enforcement and purpose of the measure. It was also declared that the term "Disorderly House" was a misnomer for the measure. No action was taken, but the discussion was preliminary to action that may come later, it was indicated.

Discussion which brought out the councilmen's attitude on the ordinance was as follows:

Reeves—"I would like to bring up ordinance 3728 for reading."

The law was produced and read.

Reeves—"What does the Snyder act say in regard to search warrants?"

White—"There must be a warrant."

Reeves—"This ordinance says not."

Clerk—"The ordinance says 'with or without warrant'."

White—"If a policeman in going around hears riot or disorder he has a right to enter. A disorderly house must be one which has a reputation for disorder and about which complaint has been made."

Genkinger—"This ordinance has been abused." He then recalled bringing the Heasley case before council years ago and said the house was entered illegally.

White—"It is illegal under this too unless there is disorder." He said "loud music is not disorder."

Genkinger—"I do not want people arrested and impugned that they are prostitutes."

White—"If a policeman abuses rights he should be given a hearing."

Burns—"Heasley had his remedy. Can't Repeal All Laws."

White—"If you repeal all laws that are abused you will not have one to use when you want one."

Genkinger produced a state law and then recited where a local house had been entered without a warrant.

Mayor Gillespie—"Mention the house."

The addresses of the homes were given.

The mayor said he knew nothing of the circumstances of one house but concerning another said complaints about it had been made.

He maintained that should the people let the policeman in he had a right to enter.

Genkinger—"They sneak around buildings and fire-escapes. It is worse than Russia."

White—"I understand police suspect liquor sometimes. When the persons are arrested they plead guilty under this ordinance."

Reeves—"Why make fish of one and flesh of another?"

To Make Nasty Condition

White—"If you repeal this a nasty condition will arise and you won't be able to handle it."

Genkinger—"I know of a house card game where they were playing a little 10 cent poker. There was no disorder yet they were arrested and put up a forfeit and did not appear rather than get a lot of notoriety."

White—"A policeman who does that is wrong."

Genkinger—"An attorney told me of a case before a judge (mentioning his name). He beat them on the state law and then they changed it to a disorderly house."

Reeves—"I don't think this city ordinance is any good."

Genkinger—"I want the law obeyed but I do not want unlawful enforcement."

White—"It will hold in court unless the arrest is wrong. The way it should be enforced is for the policeman to report that he has the information and do it the next day."

Genkinger—"If they are breaking the law I want them punished but police should get a warrant to enter a house."

White—"I know you are right."

Genkinger then said that a woman (naming her) had told her husband she is afraid of holding a house card party for fear of the house being raided. He inferred that some of the police want to "get even" with people and to also "fatten their batting average."

Liberal Tendencies

He said "my liberal tendencies must be judged right" and explained "I do not want anybody going in a house on suspicion and abusing people. In this regard there is no difference between a millionaire and a poor man."

Mayor Gillespie—"Any man who has liquor on him, a girl or a pint, can be sent to court."

Genkinger—"Yes but arrests in a home places a stigma on the children."

White—"They would not be guilty."

Genkinger—"They would be stigmatized."

Genkinger—"You have ordinances covering every violation of the law. I do not believe in having things so complicated. You must have warrants. I am not going to protect booze. The state Snyder act takes care of that."

Reeves—"Wasn't this ordinance passed to get the money for the city?"

White—"No. There were Dens, inhabited by criminals and we couldn't prove violations."

Reeves—"Didn't you have laws?"

White—"No; we made informations and the inconsistencies in the language of the ordinances wouldn't hold."

Annoyance to Community

White then explained that "Disorderly conduct is an annoyance to the general community." He said the trouble with the state act is that "you stir up neighborhood quarrels."

He said that the present ordinance, if not abused, "is O. K."

Reeves—"I think it has been."

Genkinger—"They have been going on in the Fifth and Eighth wards where people have a little wine."

White—"They cannot enter without a warrant."

Genkinger—"If they are selling, get them."

Mayor Gillespie said no houses are entered by police without warrants.

Reeves asked him concerning a certain house on North Hill.

Mayor Gillespie—"No sir, they did not need a warrant. They knocked at the door and walked in and found the gin."

Genkinger—"Why walk in?"

Mayor Gillespie—"There was a complaint of loud and boisterous noise."

Genkinger said a radio would cause "loud and boisterous noise" and added: "There is your problem. I say the abuse is wrong. I'm speaking about the legality of entering."

Scheme to Protect Criminals

Burns interrupted to say that "it is an awful thing for men to sit in council to devise schemes to protect criminals."

Genkinger—"Designate what a disorderly house is then."

Reeves—"I think it should be worded a different way."

Burns—"The act says it would have power to suppress gambling."

Genkinger—"I am not condoning gambling. I do not care what they do but I do object to putting respectable women in the category of prostitutes."

Burns—"You can say drinking in a private home is not disorderly."

Genkinger—"It is not."

Reeves—"What can we do to remedy this?"

White—"We can rewrite and leave 'Disorderly House' out. If you are going to do that you should define a policeman's duty."

He then said that when constables want to collect fees it is surprisingly easy for them to find laws by which they can do it.

Genkinger then told of arrests by constables. The total costs was $80. This was before an alderman. He cut them "cost bounds." He named the alderman.

Fees Not Turned In

Burns—"He hasn't turned in the fees yet."

Genkinger—"There is a lot not turned in."

White—"We have been swearing in a new policeman. They get no rules. They get a badge and out they go."

Genkinger—"They don't know. They want to 'get even'."

Burns—"If we could it would be good to put them on probation for six months."

It was decided to get rule books for the police.

The council then discussed the "Disorderly House" ordinance change and Genkinger said:

"I think we should go about this very carefully."

Reeves—"The reason why I brought this up was because I wanted it talked over."

Treser—"I have heard a lot about this and the term 'Disorderly House' meets objection."

Genkinger maintained the police take advantage of the city law 3728 and the mayor retorted they had been called to places which had been visited.

White—"In cases where there is loud and boisterous noise, my judgment is that it would be proper for the policeman to knock on the door and ask them to desist. If they do not, make out an information and arrest them the next day."

Genkinger—"That is what I believe. I have no objections to a house party. We don't want funerals all of the time."

White—"A policeman must use judgment."

Mayor Gillespie—"Judgment is not always 100 percent."

Genkinger—"All right. We will let this 'soak in awhile'."

Vets Attend Big Sharon Meeting

Congressman Cochran Favors Pension For World War Vets, He Asserts

Fifteen members of the Harry L. McBride Post, Veterans of Foreign Wars, were in Sharon last evening, where they attended the big celebration arranged in commemoration of the 32nd anniversary of the sinking of the Maine, which precipitated the Spanish-American War.

Congressman Thomas C. Cochran of Mercer, who was the principal speaker of the evening, stated that he was strongly in favor of the Robison-Swrick bill, which had been introduced into Congress to provide pensions for disabled World War veterans, but stated that he would go one step further and provide a pension for all World War veterans who were overseas, stating that he had met mighty few such men, who had not been physically affected by their experiences over there.

The Sharon post presented the Spanish War veterans of that city with a post flag, and refreshments were served those present by the Ladies Auxiliary.

National Farm Outlook

By ARTHUR H. JENKINS
Editor, The Farm Journal
Written for Central Press

If you are interested at all in agricultural affairs, you cannot fail to find the operation and progress of the federal farm board of absorbing interest. It is as good as a play, and as thrilling as the biggest sporting event ever staged in this country. At the moment this is written, the two great export-surplus products, wheat and cotton, are both selling off in price. Both are quoted in the open market at prices below what the co-operatives have been advancing to their members at the time the wheat or cotton is delivered.

These advances, as you will recall if you have been following the federal farm board's operations, have to be made to farmers, or many of them would be obliged to sell their crops outright, for cash. The co-operative organization must be in a position to advance a large proportion of the market price, and large amounts of cash must be on hand for that purpose.

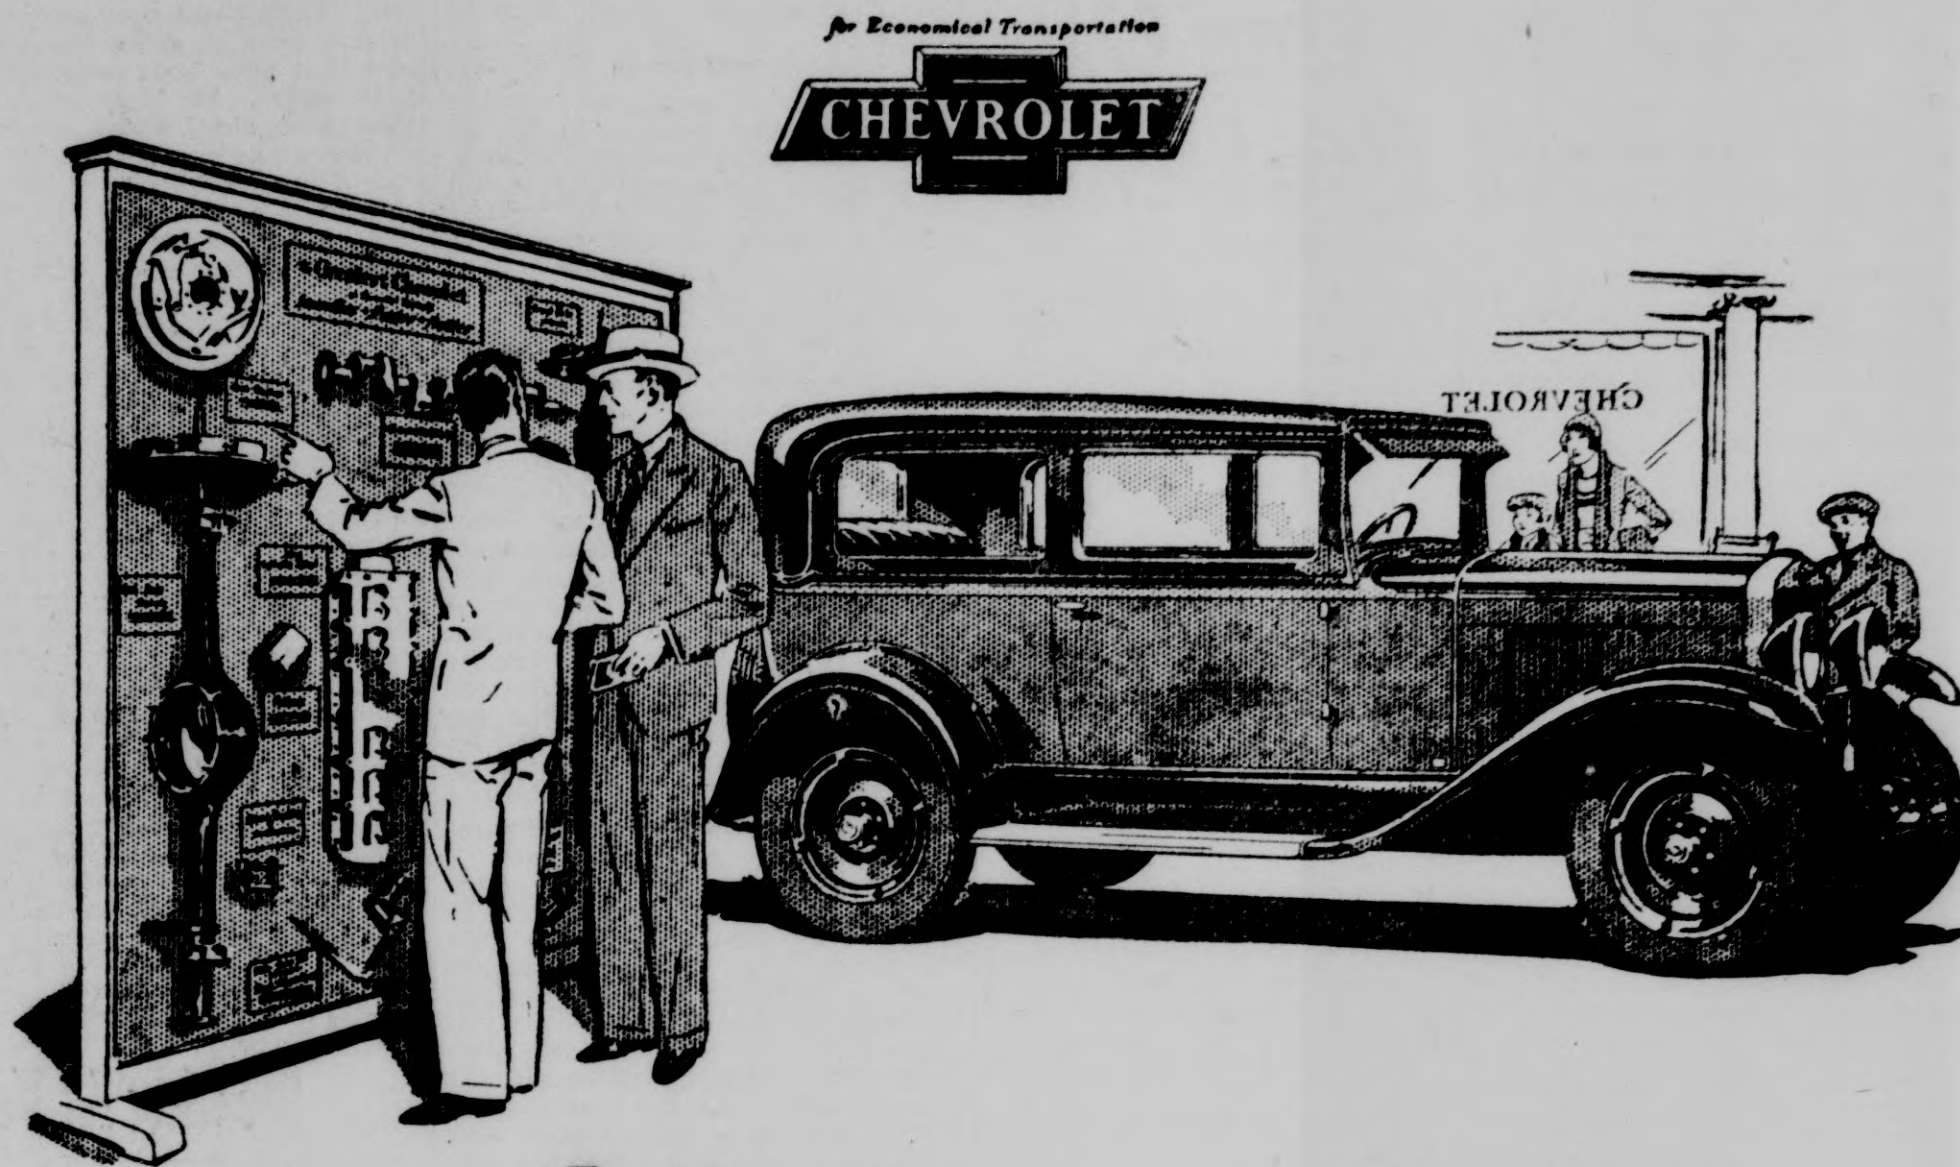

This money comes sometimes from private banks, more often from the federal intermediate credit banks, which will lend up to 60 or 65 per cent of market value on wheat and cotton; and since last autumn, from the federal farm board.

Most of the people have thought that the advances made by the co-operatives on wheat and cotton, representing roughly about $1.22 a bushel and 17 cents a pound, respectively, would fix or "peg" the prices at these points as a minimum. For why should a cotton grower sell for less than 17 cents, if the cotton co-operative would advance this amount, with a chance of getting more, if the market advances before the cotton is actually sold?

That was the argument, but the cotton and wheat markets have shown their well-known propensity for doing the unexpected, by declining to levels which, at this moment, are well below the leading prices of the co-operatives.

The question is now, what will happen next? Will the co-operatives stop taking wheat and cotton? Will they reduce the amount of their advance to growers? Will they continue as before, expecting that an advance in prices will follow the present weakness?

Nobody knows the answers to these questions. But it is evident that the farm board is up against problems in marketing and credit fully as severe as farm leaders expected when the marketing act was put through last summer.

All these added improvements—yet the price has been greatly reduced!

The new Chevrolet Six is enjoying the greatest public reception ever given a Chevrolet car. For it offers scores of new improvements and refinements that make it a finer car in every way. Yet it sells at greatly reduced prices!

Consider a few of the extra-value features that Chevrolet has incorporated in this greatest of all Chevrolets—

—a smoother, flashier six-cylinder valve-in-head motor, with its capacity increased to 50 horsepower!

—a stronger, more durable rear axle, with increased gear ratio, and new nickel-faced gears!

—four Lovejoy hydraulic shock absorbers—assuring a smooth, even, comfortable ride over any road!

—weather-proof internal-expanding four-wheel brakes, with front and rear drums tightly enclosed. Rain or shine, when you put your foot down, you stop!

—larger full-balloon tires, a new clutch and a stronger transmission!

—quieter, stronger, more beautiful Fisher bodies—with richer upholsteries, more distinctive colors, and wider, deeper seats!

Every factor has been considered that would add to the safety, comfort and convenience of the Chevrolet owner.

Come in today. See this greatest of all Chevrolets! Check over its new features. Drive it. You'll find quality you never thought possible—at such greatly reduced prices!

OH, THESE WOMEN!

By LEOLA ALLARD

A woman who gossiped about a young girl, resulting in the girl committing suicide, sentenced herself to ten years of silence. It is suggested that she should have a statue. It is surprising how earnestly the men are taking over what was formerly supposed to be the amusement and the habit of women. More and more male gossipers are being unearthed every day. I know one who makes it his duty to gather in all the unpleasant news he can get hold of, and then he phones it to the people it would hurt most. You know the fellow who hears him on the telephone that he has bad news.

He talks when you are not looking, but he takes an especial delight in telling you close-up, so that he can see your misery.

He heard about a couple separated for years. People much happier apart. Neither of them thought of starting over. He knew the man's secretary loved him. Whether the man himself knew it I don't know. She had been with him for years. But the fixer tried to bring the man and his wife together to the utter discontent of everybody concerned. The secretary heard of it and jumped out of a high window.

The gossip doesn't know that nothing is made better by meddling, and he doesn't know how close he came to having his own career finished before the girl died. I happen to know. But that won't silence him. He will be a carrier of bad news until he gets to the Gossips' hell. I imagine the punishment there is eternal silence and having someone else burn YOU up, or at least painfully scorch you. Sometimes it's a trial, waiting for Old Man Retribution to do his work, but you are so sure he will make a better job of it than you can, that it is an inducement to wait.

There are two kinds of gossip. The pleasant chatter that produces laughs and entertains everybody, including the victims, and the gossip that breaks hearts and ruins careers.

THE QUESTION BOX

CENTRAL PRESS
WASHINGTON BUREAU

Answers to questions of information and fact can be obtained by writing to Central Press Bureau, P. O. Box 126, Washington, D. C., and enclosing a self-addressed, stamped envelope. No answers will be given to marital, medical or legal questions.

"Why was the assassination of Prince Humbert, of Italy, recently attempted? Why was his marriage to Princess Marie Jose, of Belgium, opposed? And by whom? Is the princess a born Catholic?" queries a reader of the Question Box.

Some political ultra-radicals think they weaken the institution of royalty by killing royal personages, and the recent Italo-Belgian wedding ceremonies afforded an opportunity to get at one. Because of the dictatorship over their country, anti-Mussolini Italians are especially discontented just now, too. The Italian and Belgian royal families both are of the Roman Catholic faith.

What information is available concerning the new, small-sized paper money?

The new currency's substitution for the old, began July 10, 1929, is progressing rapidly. The exchange involves about five billion dollars, or nearly 900 million pieces. The saving, through the reduction in the bills' size, is about $56,200 yearly, for the public debt service. The paper is of a type used only by the government.

What are lame duck congresses? Why should they be abolished?

Congressional elections are held in November. Congressional terms do not expire until next March. A congressman who is beaten in November is called a lame duck while finishing his term. Some people think it too long for an office-holder to serve after the voters have expressed their wish for a change.

Would you please tell me who Gutenberg is? What is a Gutenberg Bible? Where was it printed and in what year?

John Gutenberg was born in Mainz, Germany, in 1410. He was the first man to invent the art of printing with movable type. After borrowing sufficient money to buy printing material he set to work on a large Latin Bible, the printing of which was completed in 1455. This Bible is known as the Gutenberg Bible.

Why is Chinese, Japanese and other Asiatic immigration absolutely excluded from America, while Europeans are admitted? Is it not unjust?

The Chinese originally were excluded because their labor's cheapness threatened American wages. The law was extended to include all Asiatics on the further grounds that, as a different race, they never can blend with whites and become real Americans. The theory is that Europeans, admitted gradually, are assimilable. However, Asiatics do consider it unjust.

Woman Plunges To Her Death

(International News Service) PHILADELPHIA, Feb. 15.—A woman believed to be Gertrude Hofner, 40, of Drexel Hill, plunged to her death from the seventh floor of the Harrison building at 15th and Market street Friday.

The woman was taken to the Hahnemann hospital where she was pronounced dead.

A brother of the dead woman told police his sister had been in a highly nervous state since the death of her mother last December. Their father had died a few months previous. She was employed as a bookkeeper at a downtown office.

Roumanian Council Refuses To Allow Ex-Crown Prince To Return For Wedding

(International News Service) BUCHAREST, Feb. 15.—Former Crown Prince Carol has been refused permission by the regency council to return to Roumania for the wedding of his sister, Princess Ileana, to Count Alexander Von Hohenberg, it was officially announced Friday.

Fisher-Lewis Heal Up Breach

Governor Fisher And Samuel S. Lewis Heal Breach Conference

(International News Service) HARRISBURG, Feb. 15.—Samuel S. Lewis, a Republican candidate for governor, Friday took the first step to heal the breach which for more than two years has existed between him and Governor John S. Fisher.

Lewis went to the Governor's office by appointment and spent half an hour in conference with the executive. After the conference neither would discuss it.

Governor Fisher apparently has been the most formidable opposition to the naming of Lewis as the Republican organization candidate for governor.

A breach between the two men which first developed early in the present administration has widened steadily although both met with apparent cordiality when public business required it.

Snook Counsel Files With Supreme Court

(International News Service) WASHINGTON, Feb. 15.—The petition of Dr. James Howard Snook for review of his conviction and sentence to death for the murder of Miss Theora Hix, Ohio State University co-ed, was lodged in the supreme court Friday but will not be docketed until February 24.

Snook's petition invokes aid of the high court on the ground that he was subjected to "third degree" methods by police at Columbus, and was not granted a fair trial as required by the federal constitution.

Snook contends he was forced to trial in June, 1929, over the protest of physicians who said that more time was necessary to complete their examination of his mental condition.

The case attracted wide attention. He was professor in the university's veterinary college.

YOUR INCOME TAX

NO. 17
A taxpayer engaged in a trade or business in which both capital and personal services are material income-producing factors also is given consideration in computing the tax on earned income to which the 25 per cent credit applies.

The revenue act provides in such cases that a "reasonable allowance as compensation for personal services" shall be considered as earned income. Such allowance is not to exceed 20 per cent of the taxpayer's share of the net profits of such trade or business. For example, a taxpayer received in 1929, from a business in which both personal services and capital are material income-producing factors, a net profit of $30,000. The 25 per cent credit is computed on 20 per cent of $30,000 or $6,000. The amount payable is the tax on $30,000, less 25 per cent of the tax on $6,000.

Within the range of the second class of earned income are many kinds of professions in which individuals are associated as partners. When the facts in each case indicate that the proportionate share to each partner of the net amount of fees from the professional partnership truly represents compensations for personal services actually rendered by him, such partnership share is to be classified as earned income in the individual return. If such share does not represent compensation for services rendered but instead represents a return on capital invested by him in the profession, or gain derived through the employment of assistants who do the actual work, it is not to be classified as earned income to the taxpayer.

A FAMOUS NAME A FINER CAR

with newly styled bodies by Fisher

The 4-Door Sedan Body by Fisher

IN ITS modish new bodies by Fisher, as in its smoother 60-horsepower engine and rugged chassis, the New Series Pontiac Big Six has been notably improved. It is a smarter, more vividly beautiful car, with its fresh new Duco colorings and deep, luxurious upholstery in harmonizing shades. It is also longer, lower and more rakish in appearance, due to the fine sweep of its new streamlined belt moulding.

Departing in no important essential from Pontiac styling of before, the New Series Pontiac Big Six represents a sound example of keeping an attractive car always abreast of the current mode.

Similarly, in the basic construction of its bodies the New Series Pontiac Big Six offers the same wear-resisting stamina found in all Pontiacs and achieved by the skillful use of heavy gauge steel over a foundation of selected wood.

All through this newest Pontiac you will discover the qualities which have made its name famous—plus refinements which make it a finer car. Improved Lovejoy Hydraulic Shock Absorbers at no extra cost give added riding comfort. Improved internal, dirt-and-weather-proof, four-wheel brakes increase its safety. A new sloping windshield lessens headlight glare and safeguards you while driving at night. A new type of steering mechanism acting on roller bearings gives greater facility of control. We want you to drive the New Series Pontiac Big Six. We want you to learn what its many improvements contribute to fine performance and exceptional value. You will find many sound reasons for agreeing that the New Series Pontiac Big Six is a finer car with a famous name.

Prices, $745 and up, f. o. b. Pontiac, Mich., plus delivery charges. Shock absorbers standard equipment. Bumpers and spring covers at slight extra cost. General Motors Time Payment Plan available at minimum rate.

Consider the delivered price as well as the list (f. o. b.) price when comparing automobile values. . . . Oakland-Pontiac delivered prices include only authorized charges for freight and delivery and a charge for any additional accessories or financing desired.

The Parent Problem

Hard Task Confronts Stepmother

By GARRY C. MYERS, Ph.D.

It is no easy task to be a good stepmother. You and I have seen some who have been really wonderful, and we must admire them. Such was the stepmother of the immortal Lincoln. At the age of eight, Abe Lincoln lost his mother. Tom Lincoln, about two years later, leaving Abe and Sarah, alone for several weeks, walked over the hundred miles back to Kentucky, where he had grown up, and married Sarah Bush Johnson, whose husband had died a few years before leaving her with three children. No one knows how much these three children and Sarah contributed toward the personality and education of Abe Lincoln—undoubtedly a very great deal.

Tom Lincoln didn't walk back home. Four horses drew them, along with a good deal of furniture. "Here's your Mammy," said Tom Lincoln to young Abe. She took the corn husks Abe had been sleeping on, piled them in the yard and said they would be good for pig pen later; and Abe sunk his head and bones that night in a feather pillow and feather mattress.

When Tom Lincoln proposed to the widow he got quickly to the point. "I have no wife and you no husband. I came a-purpose to marry you. I knowed you from a gal and you knowed me from a boy. I've no time to lose; and if you're willin' let it be gone straight off."

She replied, "I got debts." He asked her for a list of these debts, paid them, then bought a license. Here we find one good reason, at least, for Abe Lincoln's honesty.

Tom Lincoln could write; his new wife couldn't. Although he often complained about the waste of time for "education" she, just as the real mother of Abe had done, strongly encouraged the boy in his eagerness to learn.

Of her sense of humor Carl Sandburg writes: "His stepmother told him she did not mind his bringing dirt into the house on his feet; she could scour the floor; but she asked him to keep his head washed or he'd be rubbing the dirt on her white-washed rafters."

He put barefoot boys to wading in a mud-puddle near the horse trough, picked them up one by one, carried them to the house upside down and walked their muddy feet across the ceiling. The mother came in, laughed an hour at the foot tracks, told Abe he ought to be spanked—and he cleaned the ceiling so it looked new. Have you ever seen more commendable behavior in any parent?

She understood the adolescent boy as few parents do. "If he broke out laughing when others saw nothing to laugh at, she let it pass as a sign of his thoughts working their own way. So far as she was concerned he had a right to do unaccountable things."

And Abe responded to her. Do you suppose she nagged at him to make him clean those rafters or that they had an argument about it? Of course not. She understood and so did he. No wonder she said of him: "Abe never spoke a cross word to me in his life since we lived together."

Tomorrow: Education of Abe Lincoln.

Invested Capital Of Lawrence County Is Over 50 Million

Mercer And Beaver Counties Lead Local County In Money Invested In Industry

HARRISBURG, Pa., Feb. 15.—Only fifteen of Pennsylvania's sixty-seven counties maintained the same position in invested capital in industry in 1928 that they held in 1927 according to a study of figures made public today by Secretary of Internal Affairs James W. Woodward.

Industrial plants in Pennsylvania in 1928 represented an invested capital of $5,251,381,600, Secretary Woodward stated, while in 1927 invested capital amounted to $5,455,916,600.

Invested capital in Lawrence county in 1928 amounted to $52,546,800, being surpassed by Beaver and Mercer county in the local district. Beaver county's invested capital amounted to $203,873,200, while Mercer county had an invested capital of $87,583,500. Butler county trailed Lawrence county, the figures showing an invested capital of $44,834,100.

In 1927 and 1928 Allegheny county led the other counties in Pennsylvania in invested capital with Philadelphia standing second. In both years Luzerne county stood third, Beaver county was fourth and Westmoreland was fifth. The other counties holding the same positions in both years were: Montgomery, thirteenth; Erie, fourteenth; Mercer, fifteenth; York, seventeenth; Dauphin, eighteenth; Greene, thirty-third; Mifflin, thirty-seventh; Clinton, fortieth; W. Va., fifty-first and Sullivan, sixty-second.

Smith Denies He Had Control Of Plane Near Fair

Says That Youngstown Men Were Taking Up Passengers On Their Own Account

WAS TO HAVE HAD ERIE AVIATORS

Clare B. Smith, defendant in the $25,000 suit brought by Clarence R. Martin as a result of injuries sustained in an airplane accident near the New Castle fair grounds, went on the witness stand in his own defense this morning and denied that he was in control of the airplane operated by L. R. Hendricks and William Castle of Youngstown, O.

Mr. Smith told how he had leased a landing field from William Patton some time previous to the fair and had been attempting to secure Erie aviators to operate a plane during the fair. They had expected to come, but a day or two before the fair opened they had canceled the agreement.

In anticipation of the Erie aviators coming, Mr. Smith had purchased two drums of gasoline for their use and had taken them to the grounds. On the day before the fair opened Hendricks and Castle of Youngstown came to him, he said, stating that they had been referred to him by Mr. Patton. Smith said he had not known nor had he talked to them previously.

Smith said they asked him if he had the field rented and he replied that he had. They then wanted to rent it and Smith testified that he had agreed to give it to them for 40 per cent of the receipts. He also told them that he had purchased some gas which they were welcome to use if they desired.

They accepted the proposition and brought their plane over from Youngstown. Smith said that he had nothing whatever to do with the operation of the plane, although he had picked some stones from the field and had sold some tickets. He said that he was not employed to sell tickets but was giving his services for nothing in order to help them out. Mr. Hendricks and another fellow called "Red" were also selling tickets.

Immediately before the last trip was made on September 29, Smith said that he had not talked to Hendricks or Castle anything about it, except that he had asked Castle if his father could not go up alone, as he saw that only Martin was going. It was agreed that his father could go up. Witness had seen the plane in the air, and saw it after it had fallen, but did not see it as it fell. He ran to the plane after the accident and found his father and Martin badly injured. He had accompanied his father to the hospital where his father soon afterwards died.

Smith testified that when he ran to the plane after it had fallen, Castle, Martin and his father were all in it.

Constable John Miller told about seeing the accident from the fair grounds. He had run to where it had fallen. He said that all three men were in it when he arrived, and he had helped to take them out.

When the trial was started Mrs. Annabel Smith, wife of Clare B. Smith, was a co-defendant, but a non-suit was granted to her after witnesses for the prosecution had been heard. The case went to the jury about noon.

Valentine Program At Thaddeus Stevens

Interesting Program Is Given In The Assembly Hall Of School Friday Afternoon

From present appearances, the students of Thaddeus Stevens school, are all going to become actors and actresses. At every assembly program given by the school, talent which is unusual for boys and girls of their ages, is shown.

Friday afternoon, an assembly program took place in the hall auditorium of the school. It was announced by Joseph Woodman.

The program started with the flag salute, and America by the school, led by Mrs. Jane Oehler. A song, "Valentines" was sung by the 5th class. This was followed by a talk, "Who is St. Valentine?" by Joe McMillan. Class 2A gave a song entitled "Bird's Valentine".

Clarabelle Cope recited a reading, "A Valentine". Then, Mary McPeak, a talented young pianist, played a piece named "Silver Moonlight". Marjette Frazier gave an entertaining little reading—"The Valentine Shop".

The 4B class took part in a dance to the tune of "Pop Goes the Weasel," after which Jack McDevitt and Helen Louise Singer gave a drill, "In February," and a song, "The Bashful Valentine" was rendered by class 6B, and a playlet, "St. Valentines Eve," was given by class 5B.

The program ended with two stanzas of "Faith of Our Fathers," by the school.

CLASS ELECTS OFFICERS

The Mary Ralph Bible class of the Highland U. P. church held its annual election of officers Friday evening. The meeting began at 6:30 with an oyster supper and after dining the members proceeded to take up the business before the class. The president, Mrs. S. S. Sampson, was re-elected. Mrs. R. R. McGeorge was chosen vice president and Mrs. Will Fischer and Ada Cowden were returned to their offices as treasurer and secretary. Miss Margaret Smith will act as assistant secretary-treasurer. After the business session a social hour was enjoyed.

The committee in charge of arrangements was Mrs. J. M. Wallace, Mrs. John L. Welsh, Mrs. R. Fields, Mrs. A. B. Vogan and Miss Butz.

The Central Union of the W. C. T. U. held a tureen dinner Friday evening in the business girls' dining room of the Y. W. C. A. at 6 o'clock with covers laid for 24 at a table attractive with its color scheme of red and white.

After dinner the annual memorial program to Frances Willard, George Washington and Abraham Lincoln was held. In the absence of Mrs. Jennie Forquer, who is ill in the Jameson Memorial hospital, Mrs. Martha Kettler led the devotions and Jean Kennedy acted as pianist.

Letters were read from Mildred Allison of Alexandria, Egypt, and Mrs. Blanche Pennington, director of the new department Non-Alcoholic Fruit Products.

The membership campaign plans were adopted and Mrs. E. C. Beahm Kettler advised. Mrs. Martha Kettler advised.

Reports of the activities were 85 sick calls made, 1 basket flowers, 2 funeral bouquets, 1 plant and 2 bouquets sent; 134 magazines, 1 cake, 35 lunches, 7 glasses and two quarts of jelly sent out; 10 days nursing sick child, 3 dozen eggs, food in baskets to value of $19.50, garments and two testaments given out.

Mrs. Forquer reported 15 evangelistic meetings, 2 devotions led, 4 bibles and testaments given, 9 library books loaned, 10 sure promise cards received, 9 book marks, 12 magazines, 8 visits to sick, 4 letters and money $10.37.

A patriotic program was carried out with a piano solo by Jean Kennedy; reading, "Frances Willard," Mrs. E. C. Beahm; Stories of Frances Willard, Dorothy Price and Gula Price; reading by Josephine Abbott; different phases of Frances Willard's life by Mrs. T. C. Nelson and Mrs. William Kennedy. A poem "Lincoln" was read by Mrs. Martha Kettler, at the request of Mrs. Jennie Forquer. There were twelve quotations of Frances Willard given by members of the union and Mrs. Kettler gave a reading on "The Three Great Patriots"; Mrs. C. E. Jones gave a talk on "Why send $2.00 each year to the Willard Fund?"

Mrs. J. H. Nelson was received as a new member.

A union service of all the missionary societies and unions of the county is called for Thursday, February 20, at 7:30 at the Third United Presbyterian church. Mrs. Harriet Boobyer of Pittsburgh will be the speaker.

Two Cars Figure In Highway Crash

Automobiles operated by H. R. Kennedy, New Wilmington, and Clifford Comstock, New Castle, crashed last night two miles north of New Wilmington, along the New Wilmington-Sharon highway, according to Corporal Beck of the Pennsylvania highway patrol. Both cars were damaged and had to be towed to service stations.

According to the highway patrol corporal's report, the car operated by Kennedy sideswiped the machine driven by Comstock.

Germany Will Put Partial Stop On Liquor Sales

(International News Service) BERLIN, Feb. 15.—Marking one of the most decisive steps ever taken by Germany in behalf of temperance, the economic committee of the Reichstag today approved a resolution authorizing the various states and communities to prohibit the sale of alcoholic beverages on Fridays, Saturday and election days.

The measure was passed by the close vote of 14 to 13. It now goes to the Reichstag for consideration.

The committee's action is the first definite indication of success for the nationwide prohibition and temperance campaign organized by the trade unions and tacitly supported by the government.

The measure as it stands now is a species of "local option," which governs only the sale of "hard" liquor. Enemies of prohibition, however, maintain that partial prohibition of this sort is invariably followed by total prohibition, including that of light wines and beer.

The Bourgeois Press warns against a repetition of America's "noble experiment" which is considered by it as a dire failure. But it is extremely likely the resolution will be passed by the Reichstag. The bill also provides for closing all saloons at 1 a. m. instead of 3 a. m. as at present.

Constable John Miller told about seeing the accident from the fair grounds. He had run to where it had fallen. He said that all three men were in it when he arrived, and he had helped to take them out.

When the trial was started Mrs. Annabel Smith, wife of Clare B. Smith, was a co-defendant, but a non-suit was granted to her after witnesses for the prosecution had been heard. The case went to the jury about noon.

Friday afternoon, an assembly program took place in the hall auditorium of the school. It was announced by Joseph Woodman.

The program started with the flag salute, and America by the school, led by Mrs. Jane Oehler. A song, "Valentines" was sung by the 5th class. This was followed by a talk, "Who is St. Valentine?" by Joe McMillan. Class 2A gave a song entitled "Bird's Valentine".

Clarabelle Cope recited a reading, "A Valentine". Then, Mary McPeak, a talented young pianist, played a piece named "Silver Moonlight". Marjette Frazier gave an entertaining little reading—"The Valentine Shop".

The 4B class took part in a dance to the tune of "Pop Goes the Weasel," after which Jack McDevitt and Helen Louise Singer gave a drill, "In February," and a song, "The Bashful Valentine" was rendered by class 6B, and a playlet, "St. Valentines Eve," was given by class 5B.

The program ended with two stanzas of "Faith of Our Fathers," by the school.

CLASS ELECTS OFFICERS

The Mary Ralph Bible class of the Highland U. P. church held its annual election of officers Friday evening. The meeting began at 6:30 with an oyster supper and after dining the members proceeded to take up the business before the class. The president, Mrs. S. S. Sampson, was re-elected. Mrs. R. R. McGeorge was chosen vice president and Mrs. Will Fischer and Ada Cowden were returned to their offices as treasurer and secretary. Miss Margaret Smith will act as assistant secretary-treasurer. After the business session a social hour was enjoyed.

The committee in charge of arrangements was Mrs. J. M. Wallace, Mrs. John L. Welsh, Mrs. R. Fields, Mrs. A. B. Vogan and Miss Butz.

Local Industry Exhibit To Be Show Feature

Display Will Show Process Of Making Tin Cans From Ore To Finished Product

ALL LOCAL PLANTS TO DISPLAY WARES

One of the most interesting side features of the automobile show, which will be staged in the Cathedral on February 27, 28 and March 1 will be the industrial exhibit, arrangements for which have been practically completed.

A part of this exhibit will be the displays of the Carnegie Steel, American Sheet & Tin Plate and American Can Co., showing the various processes which are gone through in making tin cans, from the native ore to the tin plate and then the finished product, all of which is done here by the three plants named above. New Castle is the only city in the country where this complete process takes place.

Many other local industrial plants will have exhibits at the auto show and it will be a revelation to New Castle people to find out just how varied the industry here is.

There will be exhibits of pottery, sanitary ware, bronze bushings and other kindred articles, furnaces, boilers, etc.

In all approximately 24 manufacturers have signified their intention of placing materials in the exhibition. The main feature of the show of course will be the new models of the automobiles produced by the leading companies of the country, but the local industrial exhibit will also attract no little attention.

Sustain Complaint Filed By Borough Of New Wilmington

Public Service Commission Fixes March 6 Date For Borough Vs. Telephone Case

(International News Service) HARRISBURG, Feb. 15.—The public service commission today in a score of orders disposed of as many cases pending before it.

Harry R. Robinson, who has been carrying freight between Pittsburgh and Burgettstown under an agreement with the merchants of the latter place, was directed to cease operations until he has obtained a certificate of public convenience. Complaint against his operation was filed by the Pennsylvania railroad and the Railway Express Agency.

A complaint against M. P. P. Oliver, who operates a business between McKeesport and Greensburg, was sustained. Oliver was ordered not to transport passengers between Irwin and Greensburg or intermediate points.

The commission also sustained a complaint lodged by the borough of New Wilmington against the local telephone company for failure to comply with an order directing repairs and improvements in facilities.

The commission fixed March 6 for a hearing in Pittsburgh to allow the company to show why it had failed to comply with the previous order.

BYRD PARTY READY TO START HOMEWARD JOURNEY

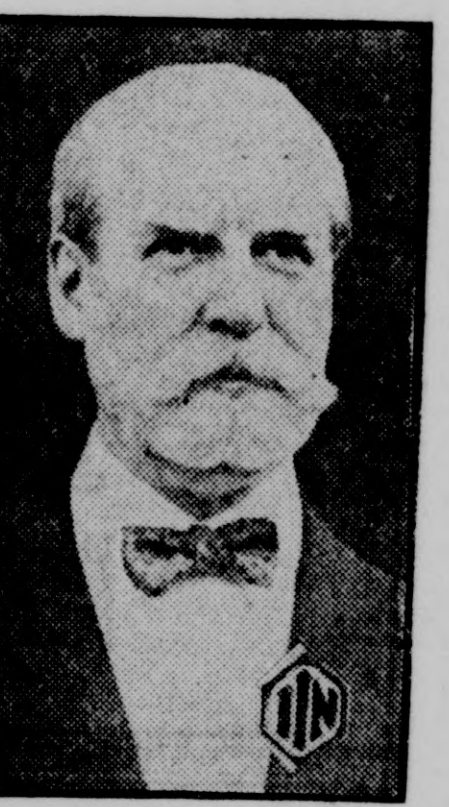

After weeks of feverish activity Admiral Richard E. Byrd and his men are ready to begin the task of loading their equipment on the City of New York which has been delayed in reaching Little America by unusual ice conditions and heavy seas. All material which is to be returned to the United States has been transferred to a location near the landing place of the rescue ship. Photos show the City of New York, Admiral Byrd in his Arctic apparel, and a map of the ice-bound region. Ice has begun to form unusually early and for some time Admiral Byrd believed it would probably be necessary for his party to remain in the south polar region for another year.

HIGHLIGHTS OF HISTORY

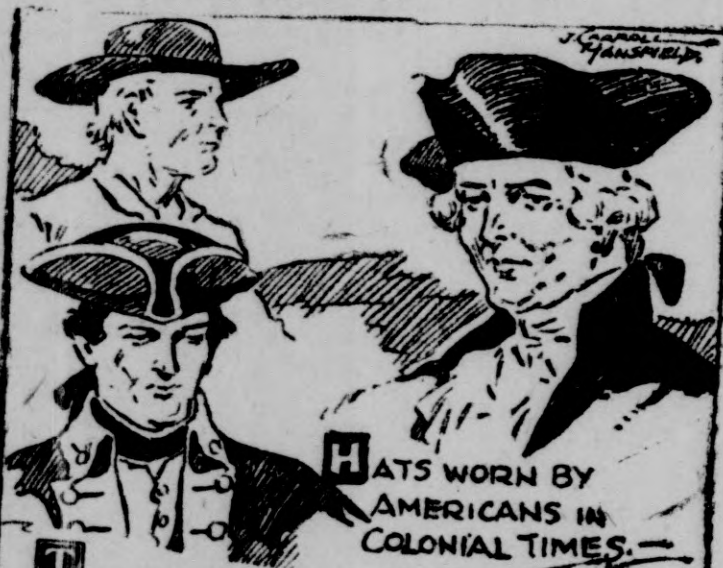

By J. Carroll Mansfield

The Story Of American Industry
America In The "Homespun Age"—Part 6

THERE WERE MANY FLOURISHING INDUSTRIES IN COLONIAL TIMES—TOBACCO RAISING, FARMING, FISHING, FUR TRAPPING AND SHIPBUILDING—BUT BEFORE THE REVOLUTIONARY WAR THERE WERE FEW MANUFACTURES IN AMERICA.

ONE REASON FOR THIS WAS THAT THE BRITISH GOVERNMENT DISCOURAGED ANY MANUFACTURES IN THE COLONIES THAT WOULD COMPETE WITH THOSE OF THE BRITISH ISLES. THE OBJECT OF THIS POLICY WAS TO KEEP AMERICA A READY MARKET FOR BRITISH-MADE ARTICLES.

THE SALE OF AMERICAN-MADE HATS THROUGHOUT THE COLONIES AND IN ENGLAND BEGAN TO HURT THE BUSINESS OF THE BRITISH HAT MAKERS. THEY APPEALED TO PARLIAMENT FOR PROTECTION AGAINST THIS COMPETITION, AND IN 1731 PARLIAMENT PASSED AN ACT PROHIBITING THE EXPORTATION OF HATS FROM AMERICA, AND RESTRICTING THE INDUSTRY IN THE COLONIES.

New Castle High Defeats Evans City 37-12

Local Hi Cagers
Look Impressive
In Easy Victory

McAuley, Alexander, Wainio
High Scorers For Bridenbaugh Coached Machine

Victory Places Locals High In Race; Win Is Thirtieth Of Present Season

Cy CHARLES LANDOLF
Displaying the best form shown so far this year, the New Castle high school basketball team won their 13th consecutive victory of the season when they defeated Evans City high five Friday night at senior high gym by the lopsided count of 37-12 in a regular section three of the W. P. I. A. L. game.

Despite the one-sided score the game proved very interesting to watch and drew close to 1,000 followers. The entire New Castle team played splendidly and were deserving of victory. The red and black cohorts appeared like champs last night. The defense was perfect. They passed the ball like a professional team and made several good shots from the court. For instance that shot that Luther Rowe made was one of the best ever seen at the local basketball hardwood this year. He made a pretty shot near the center of the court with the ball just near the boundary line.

Defense Excellent.
Coach Bridenbaugh, who worked out a new defense this year, was pleased with the way the boys went about preventing the Butler countians from scoring. The blue and white quintet added three field goals in the last three minutes of the final quarter. This was due to the fact that the second team was substituted for the first.

The first quarter was fast and found the locals scoring many field goals. Hardly had the game started when McAuley caged the first two pointer, a beautiful shot near the center of the court. Hannon and Nick Uram followed in rapid order. It was estimated that these three baskets were made in the short time of 40 seconds. Wainio contributed two goals and Alexander dribbled through for another. The other three points were made via the four method. The first chapter ended with the local quintet at the top 15-0.

Half Ends 19-1.
The second quarter was fast with Evans City holding the red and black jerseyed passers to four points. Rowe and Shaffer were the two local boys who found the hoops for a field goal each. Rowe was substituted for Russell Hannon, who sprained his ankle in the first quarter, and Shaffer replaced Wainio at forward. The half ended 19-1 with New Castle in front.

The third period was a repetition of the first quarter with the league leaders scoring 14 markers. Alexander came through with three goals, Rowe heaved the ball through once, McAuley scored two more from the field, and Wainio made his fourth bucket of the game. The other point was scored on a free throw. Evans City scored but five points in this period. The third quarter whistle blew with New Castle in front 37-5.

Wainio and Rowe were the sole scorers for the red and black machine in the final stanza. Coach Bridenbaugh substituted a new team a little after the final quarter started. Johnny Uram, brother to Nick and last find of the high school, saw action in the game. He looks like a comer for next year. The other subs were McKissick, Winter, Marvin and Shaffer. The second team did fairly well against their more experienced foes. They held Evans City down to three baskets. The final score was 37-12. The locals almost had 100 per cent from the foul line. Out of six tries five counted for extra points. Regis McAuley and Uram at the guards played well. Alexander played his customary good game as did Rowe and Wainio. For Evans City, Denbow and Ripper were the best.

Union High Tops Mt. Jackson 26-18

Union High Boys Take Impressive Victory—Union High Girls Beat Opponents

Coach Boyd's Union High passers had little trouble in downing Mt. Jackson High in a game played at the Union High gym. The Union High girls made it a complete night for Union by beating the Mt. Jackson girls 29 to 3, in the preliminary game.

It was due to the excellent playing of Patton that Union High carried off the victory, this pretty little forward caging eleven baskets and five fouls for 27 of her team's points. Donley had the other two points for Union. The Mt. Jackson forwards were held close by the fine guarding of Campbell and Winter and had very little opportunity to score. Smith and Carr also played good basketball for Union. Snyder was the best for the losers.

Union Looks Good
The Union High boys went to work in the first quarter of their battle, and ran up a lead of 10 to 3. In the second quarter the Union boys tallied six more points to four for Mt. Jackson and led at the half 16 to 7. The third quarter found the Boyd machine slowed down again, scoring but four points to lead at the end of the third stanza 20 to 16. The Mt. Jackson team looked good in the third quarter outscoring the Union team 9 to 4.

In the fourth and final quarter the Union team added six more points to two for Mt. Jackson. It was the fine guarding of the Union players that saved the day. St. Clair was the best for Mt. Jackson scoring a field goal and several fouls, while for Union the fine playing of Lanigan, Critchlow, and Jaworski featured. All three of the boys having three field goals apiece.

Maxie Rosenbloom Defeats Hudkins

(International News Service)
NEW YORK, Feb. 15.—Light-heavyweight title ambitions of Ace Hudkins of Nebraska, Los Angeles and points west were somewhat belated today. He took a considerable lacing in Madison Square Garden here last night from Maxie Rosenbloom, Harlem heavyweight.

As a result of his victory a world's title bout for Rosenbloom with Jim Slattery of Buffalo, was expected to be announced today. Slattery is recognized as champion in New York.

Tireless punching, slapping and cuffing by Rosenbloom won him at least seven of the ten rounds. Hudkins won only one round, the seventh.

Bill Terry Signs Giant Contract

(International News Service)
NEW YORK, Feb. 15.—Bill Terry, slugging first sacker of the New York Giants, is no longer a holdout. The signed contract of the Memphis star was filed away today at the Giants' offices. Whether Terry yielded his signature at figures higher than those offered him earlier this year was not disclosed.

TWO LEAGUES FOR "Y" BOYS' TEAMS

New Arrangement Approved By Managers; Classify Teams Last Night

Two leagues were created by the boys' basketball teams of the Young Men's Christian Association when managers and representatives of each met to plan for the second half schedule last night. The session took place at the Y. M. C. A.

The leagues hereafter will be known as the minor and major sections. It was announced following the meeting. The teams were classified as follows:

Class A: Red Birds, B. V. D., Dimling, Castles, Fireflies and Laurels; class B: Eagles, Imperials, George Washington Hi-Y, Fred Pentz Newsboys, Smoothies and the Ben Franklin Hi-Y.

The schedule for today follows: First game: George Washington Hi-Y vs. Imperials.
Second game: Laurels vs. Castles.
Third game: Smoothies vs. Ben Franklin Hi-Y.
Fourth game: B. V. D. vs. Red Birds.
Fifth game: Eagles vs. Fred Pentz Newsboys.

Sixth game: Fireflies vs. Dimlings. Linden Bruce, assistant to the physical director will be in charge of the leagues.

HERE AND THERE IN SPORTS' LAND

Al Zill will stage a comeback as a boxing promoter at Youngstown Monday night when he presents Clyde Hull against Freddy Mueller. It is the first attempt to stage shows in several months. Hull has fought Pete Latzo, Sergeant Sammy Baker, Joe Dundee and Mueller has fought Jack Beng, Ray Miller, Spug Meyers and if recollection serves right, Paris Caney. Eddie Flick, protégé of Bobby Latzo, this city, will box Young Riley, Canton, O.

Primo Camera pushed over another setup at Memphis in a round last night. Jim Sigman was the setup.

Allegheny was virtually eliminated at Meadville from further consideration in tri-state basketball supremacy last night by Grove City 42 to 26. The Crimson led from the start to finish, excepting for a brief part of the first period. Stavitsky and Burke each caged seven baskets.

West Virginia university wrestlers last night proved superior to those of Ohio U and won 17 to 11.

University of Chicago is to hold a ping pong tournament and 500 athletes have entered the meet.

Bill Amos has been named football coach at Washington & Jefferson.

Crimson Passers Defeat Allegheny

Coach Bob Thorn's Grove City College basketball team handed the Alleghenians of Allegheny College, Meadville, a lacing 42 to 26 in a game played at the Allegheny floor on Friday night. The Groves led from the start to finish, excepting for a brief part of the first period. Stavitsky and Burke each caged seven baskets.

The summary—
Grove City 42..... Allegheny 26.
Fegley.....F..... Bair
McCann.....F..... Dennison
Hildebrand.....G..... Conn
Stavitsky.....G..... Garbark
Ryan.....G..... Berger
Score by halves:
Grove City.....24 18-42

Where Clancy Is King

Clancy, christened Frank and called "King", of the Ottawa Senators, is considered by many hockey critics to be the greatest active exponent of "the fastest of all sports"—better at the ice game than even the extraordinary Eddie Shore of the Boston Bruins. "King" Clancy is a truly great defense man and, besides, he is one of the ablest of scorers.

The New York Rangers and other powerful hockey combinations at various times have tried to buy Clancy from Ottawa, but not only has the latter club rejected such offers, but the "King" himself prefers to play for his native city, where he was cradled in the game at which he has become a master.

Efforts to purchase Clancy, Hec Kilrea and one or two other Senatorial brilliants bring to light a rather gallant and edifying attitude on the part of the Ottawa club. It represents the smallest city in the National league and because of smaller population it attracts the smallest gates in that combination; yet the Senators' owners refuse to make profits by selling Ottawa players, preferring to give their patrons the best possible in hockey lines.

And "King" Clancy, of course, is the major home attraction in Ottawa. His father was one of Canada's great all-around athletes, an all-time marvel at football. Young Frank inherited much of his dad's athletic fire, and has added to it.

The "King" is now about 30 years old and is in his seventh season as a professional. "Mike" Rodden, noted National league referee, rates Clancy as a better hockey star than Shore. As Michael insists: "The King can do everything that Eddie can, and is not handicapped by temperament. Shore is the better showman and a truly great hockey star, but I believe Clancy shades him in steady all-around performance. If I had my choice, the Ottawa King would be my first pick for any current all-star hockey team."

When I was working as secretary for the Southern league—it was purely for pleasure because in those days the minors couldn't afford to pay for such services, I saw a play which made a big league.

At that time, it was in the last years of the nineteenth century, John B. Nicklin, Chattanooga banker, was president of the league. He had a young son with baseball ambitions and naturally the kid was given a try-out by Manager Gus Schmetz of the Chattanooga Lookouts.

One spring the Cincinnati Reds came through the Tennessee city on an exhibition tour and played a game with the home outfit. Nothing happened of great interest until late in the game Buck Ewing, the Red's great backstop and manager, came to the plate with the sacks crowded and two out.

He could smack a ball like a demon when he felt in trim and this was one of those times. However, young Nicklin, playing in the outfield, turned like a flash at the crack of the bat and fled to deep center. He seemed to glide over the ground as he raced the speeding pellet which was on its way to make one of those longest rides I ever saw in baseball take.

Just as the ball flashed by him young Nicklin threw his body into a leaping half turn and caught the sphere. The stands roared with applause and Buck Ewing got the surprise of his life.

The Reds certainly must have remembered that brilliant catch and talked of it in the National league, for soon McGraw sent for the kid and he played a bangup game for the Giants in the infield.

You have guessed that the young chap was the noted Strange Nicklin—or have you?

If Congress is unwilling to eliminate "applause" out of congressional speeches it might compromise by substituting "applause" for "applause".—The Topeka Daily Capital.

High Girls Win In Prelim Game

New Castle Girls Defeat Franklin, Pa., Lassies 19-16 In Good Game

In a preliminary game to the New Castle Evans City encounter the New Castle high school girls' team came through with a clean cut victory when they surprised by taking the measure of the Franklin, Pa. high lassies 19-16. The game proved very exciting and one of the best girls game ever enacted at the local high school court. At the half the visitors held a one point lead over the locals. The score was 10-9. But in the final half the Lawrence Countians came through. Inability to cage fouls cost Franklin the game. Out of 16 fouls the locals came through with 9 while the losers could only make 4 out of 16. For New Castle the playing of Kraft, Kaufman, Bogdon and Douthett was spectacular while Schruers and Nicklin were the best for the losers. Previous to this these two teams played to a 14-14 tie.

The summary—
New Castle 19..... Franklin 16
Douthett.....F..... Schruers
Bogdon.....F..... Nicklin

Timekeeper—Slippery Rock Teachers College.

Wampum High Stars Top Young Yankees

The Wampum High Stars added the Young Yankees of New Castle to their list of victims the other night at the Wampum floor. The score was 33 to 14. The playing of Ferrucci and C DeMark was a feature of the game. Ferrucci had six baskets and DeMark had three to his credit.

The defensive play of Julius and Caplan was great. For the losers the playing of Leonhart and F. Kulha featured.

The summary—
Stars..... Yankees.

White Sox Team Starts Southward

(International News Service)
CHICAGO, Feb. 15.—The Chicago White Sox were to embark today for the spring training camp at San Antonio, Texas.

John Riddle, 22 year old catcher from the Indianapolis club, will join the White Sox in spring quarters as the latest addition to the club.

New Wilmington Downs Shenango

New Wilmington High Quintet Looks Good In Beating Shenango 19 To 9

(Special To The News)
NEW WILMINGTON, Pa., Feb. 15.—New Wilmington seemed to find a new impetus last night and proceeded to give Shenango a trimming, in retaliation for the defeat, that Shenango handed them last month.

The revamped lineup with Big Joe Brownlee at center and Myers at forward, proved a bit to good. The boys played ball and played it hard, right from the start. They proved that they had a defense and Shenango did not get a two-pointer in the first half. The offense was just as good and the score at the half was 12-3.

During the second half, the game was tight for the first three minutes and then White scored a field goal. From then on it was a ball game and New Wilmington boys gave all they had. Defense was good and as the boys tired, they opened up a little. Body, Shenango substitute booked a couple of lucky ones in from near the foul line, the only two that Shenango were fortunate enough to get.

Excellent playing was shown by both sides but the big boys of Wilmington were a bit to tall and continued to score.

Coach Karsten gave all his subs a chance and they looked rather good. Body played best for Shenango while, Brownlee, White and Myers were the outstanding boys for New Wilmington.

In the preliminary, the 8th grade lost to the Sophomores, by a score of 22-19. Eagleson, a eleven year old forward on the 8th grade, scored five baskets and a foul. He ought to make a good man for Coach Karsten some day.

The summary—
N. Wilmington 19..... Shenango 9
White.....F..... Wear
Myers.....F..... Downs
Brownlee.....C..... Baldwin
Hartwell.....G..... Brown
Davis.....G..... Boston
Sub—Spec. Sharp, McCrumb, Kauffman, Gilliland, McMains, Marshall, Lepista, Body, Kelley.
Field Goals—White 3, Myers, Brownlee 2, Hartwell, Davis, Body 2, Fouls—New Wilmington—3 out of 7. Shenango—5 out of 7. Referee—Tudor Lewis. (Westminster). Scorer—Comstock.

Of course the only decent thing to do, when giving Chicago back to the Indians, would be to apologize for the condition it is in.—The Detroit News.

Juniors-Seniors Enjoy Party Here

ELLWOOD CITY, Feb. 15.—About 100 members of the Junior and Senior classes of the Lincoln high school enjoyed a dancing party Friday night

The decorations, of course, were of valentine design, and loving subjects of the Freshman and Sophomore classes, assisted in transforming the muscular gym into a flowing valentine bower. They even put cushions on the bleachers, it was said. A program of games and dancing was enjoyed and the high school orchestra contributed peppy music.

Principal Bell and other faculty representatives formed an adult ballast to the fun and delicious refreshments concluded the event.

ALUMNAE BANQUET
ELLWOOD CITY, Feb. 15.—Attorney
J. W. Humphrey, one of the directors of Grove City College, has charge of local reservations for the annual Alumnae banquet of the college which is set for Tuesday evening at 6 o'clock at the General Brookhead hotel in Beaver Falls. A fine program has been prepared and many alumnae are expected from this section.

DOING NICELY
ELLWOOD CITY, Feb. 15.—James Perdue of Moravia Stop, who underwent an operation Wednesday in the New Castle hospital, is reported as doing nicely.

Rev. John King Is Pastor At The Union Service Here Friday

Pastor Of Bell Memorial Church Gives Brilliant And Dramatic Sermon Friday Night

ELLWOOD CITY, Feb. 15.—Rev.
John King, pastor of the Bell Memorial church occupied the pulpit Friday night at the Union service which is being conducted nightly in the United Presbyterian church.

A large crowd was in attendance and Rev. King chose to build his sermon theme about the text "I am Not Ashamed of the Gospel" from the first chapter of Romans, 16th and 17th verses. He pointed out the wonderful personality of Christ and the great teaching of the text, in that it is the power of God unto salvation, and therein is revealed the righteousness of the gospel.

A song service preceded the sermon, led by Rev. Hugh Maxwell of the Reformed church. Rev. R. A.
Little of the M. E. church presided, introducing the various part of the program. Another feature was a quartet number comprising Rev.
Maxwell, Rev. Stevenson, Harold Mahal and James Harrison, which added much to the success of the evening.

There will be a Union Service this evening in the U. P. church at 7:30 and also tomorrow night at the same hour. Sunday evening is the closing night of a successful series of Union services, with practically all the churches of Ellwood City joining.

Small Fire At Local Plant Does Slight Damage

ELLWOOD CITY, Feb. 15.—An alarm was turned in to the fire department Friday afternoon about 4:45 o'clock from the Ellwood Iron and Wire company, located on the Pittsburgh Circle.

The fire was extinguished in a short time and no damage was reported. The small blaze was caused when sparks from the forge in the blacksmith department ignited some oil waste matter on the floor.

ELLWOOD CITY PERSONALS

High School Has Another Set-Back In Butler Clash

Score Of 19 To 9 In Favor Of the Butler Quintet Adding Another Loss For Ellwood

In Spite Of The Ultimate Victory For Butler, Game Was Close And Interesting

By TONY PASTA

ELLWOOD CITY, Feb. 15.—A setback was again suffered by Coach Ingles high school basketball quintet last night when they traveled to Butler to drop a contest by a 19 to 9 score. It was a close and interesting game, which kept both teams alert throughout the battle.

Butler got on to a lead in the first stanza as they garnered ten points while the best Ellwood could do was to collect four. In the second period the soap miners almost equaled their previous feat as they fell short of only one point of scoring as many as the first part of the fray. The Tubers were again held almost helpless as they secured only five tallies.

The winners were very aggressive and played a great game, but the Tubers put up a stiff battle. In their first encounter the soap miners toppled the locals by a large margin, but Rader in the great Chicago Tabernacle, which seats 5000 people.

Miller was the stellar player of the till as he alone sank eight field goals.
His was a brilliant performance and was highly responsible for the victory. He scored the only counters secured by the winners with the exception of a foul by Abbot and Downing.

King, Dudick and Rossman scored a goal apiece for the blue and white.
King also tossed in two from the foul line. Clock collected one via the same route. Ellwood will remain idle until next Friday when they clash with New Castle on the local floor. It will be a double attraction.

The lineup:
Ellwood City: Butler
King, F. Miller
Clock, T. V. Abbot McKinn, C. Downing
Dudick, G. L. Lubano
Rossman, G. Riley
Subs.—Zeigler for Dudick, Stasick for Rossman, Ralston for Abbot, Pawk for Downing, Jiles for Lubano.

Field goals—Rossman, Dudick, King and Miller 8.
Fouls—King 2-7; Clock 1-1; McKinn
0-3; Zeigler 0-1; Miller 1-7; Abbot
1-1. Downing 1-2.
Referee—Dallzell.

WAMPUM
Fathers And Sons
Have Fine Banquet

Attorney Lockhart Speaker At Gathering In Wampum—
Other News Notes

(Special To The News)
WAMPUM, Pa., Feb. 15.—The annual banquet of fathers and sons was quite a successful and most pleasant affair of the season when 63 sat down to an elaborate chicken dinner Thursday night in the Presbyterian church dining room.

Ladies of the Missionary Society prepared and served the dinner for the committee who were in charge of the affair.

David Stewart was toastmaster; Attorney Jno. Lockhart, of New Castle, was the principal speaker of the evening. Various members of the Bible class gave remarks. Francis Hennon, Seth Morrow and Aubrey Reno presented a short playlet. Pep singing and a generally good time was had by all.

ENROUTE TO FLORIDA
Mr. and Mrs. J. C. F. Jackson who left for Florida recently were accompanied by the former's sister, Mrs. Rose Jackson, and F. M. Davis.
Mr. Davis will visit his son's wife and children, Mrs. E. J. Davis, and will return via train. The Jacksons will remain for an indefinite time.

CHURCH NOTES

BIG GUNS TO BOOM IN MIAMI WARS

With Jack Sharkey and Phil Scott going 15 rounds in the feature mill, Vittorio Campolo and Johnny Risko, Tommy Loughran and Pierre Charles, and Jim Maloney and Moise Bouquillon clashing in 10 rounds, the Miami, Fla., February 27 ring card takes on the aspects of a World war. Scott is English, Campolo a South American, Charles a Belgian and Bouquillon a Frenchman.

NEW YORK STOCKS

Unsettled Stock Market Is Noted For Week End

By W. S. COVINS
International News Service Financial Editor

NEW YORK, Feb. 15.—The stock market was unsettled at the week-end by increasing weakness in the oils. The mercantile stocks and many of the specialties which have been leading the forward movement in the last week or two. Fox Film dropped off to 28 for a new low on the move as the result of uneasiness over the final outcome of the financial tangle, which in the next step comes before the stockholders for solution.

The majority of the standard and independent oil shares flopped to the year's lowest price as the disruption in the industry caused by the recent oil price cuts loomed larger and larger on the horizon. Flooding of the eastern markets with "cheap gas" is now being predicted in some sections of Wall Street.

Standard of New Jersey sold about point lower, at 60 1/4; Standard of New York at 32; Sinclair broke below 23 for the first time this year; Barnsdall and Pure Oil were again scrapings bottom and Texas Company, Pan American and Standard of California were offered at the lowest prices of the year.

Romance Leads To Collapse Of Bank

Bank President And Pretty Cashier Held By Officials; Bank Some $300,000 Short

(International News Service)
CHICAGO, Feb. 15.—The four year bank romance between Elmer D. Languth, president, and his 25-year-old cashier, Miss Lettina Lindgren, today was blamed for the sudden collapse of the People's State Bank of Maywood following the girl's surrender to authorities last night.

The girl's admissions to the state's attorney's office revealed a story of financial juggling of the bank's funds and clandestine romance in which Languth showered his pretty cashier with luxuries, according to authorities.

Investigation of the bank's records shows that at least $200,000 has been taken through juggling of accounts. Languth's family had been highly respected in the suburban community for years and no suspicion arose until the bank closed its doors Saturday. Investigators estimate that Languth's total spending during the alleged romance amounts to $300,000.

Both Languth and the girl were released under heavy bond.

Prisoners Whipped In Delaware Today

(International News Service)
WILMINGTON, Del., Feb. 15.—Delaware's noted whipping statute was invoked again today and two young men were strapped to the New Castle county whipping post and given five lashes each across their bare backs by Warden E. J. Leach. The punishments were dealt out for the theft of $300 worth of chickens and turkeys last Christmas.

In addition to the whippings, the culprits, Frank Dickerson, 24, and his brother, James, 27, both of Georgetown, Del., were given prison sentences. Frank got two years and six months while James was sentenced to six months.

Report Two Cases Of Contagion Here

Two cases of contagion today were reported to the city health officer, Dr. William L. Steen. The patients are Dorothy Emery, 2, of 1112 Croton avenue, diphtheria and Calvin Donohue, 6, Wright apartments, measles.

SLAIN BY GANG GUNS

Dashing madly down a New York street in a desperate attempt to escape what police believe was vengeance of a dope peddling gang, Mayme Layton, 27, dance hall hostess, and her ex-convict lover, Carmine Barelli, 34, inset, are shot down and killed by four gangsters.

Cars Stalled On Steep Hills

Dozen Cars Skid And One Crashes Into Phone Pole In Highland

Automobiles and trucks today had a difficult time ascending and descending Highland avenue and North Jefferson street, especially the former and at noon a dozen cars could be seen lodged against the curb. One car crashed into a telephone pole at Stewart place.

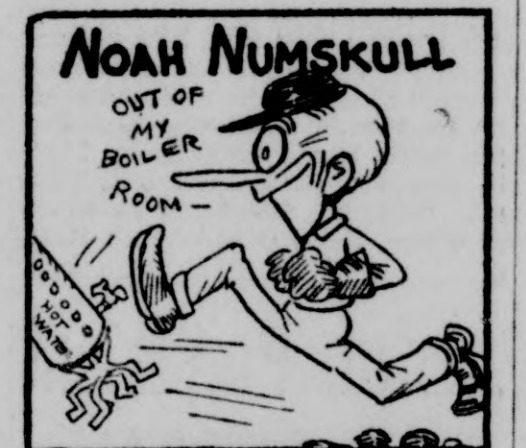

A heavy snowstorm started early today was the cause of the automobiles skidding and only a clever manipulation of brake and power prevented many from getting beyond control of the drivers.

Street car tracks were covered in some places by the snow and according to the Penn-Ohio Electric railway officials they planned to put the snow plow in operation should the snow pack and threaten to interfere with transportation.

McFarland School Is Still Closed

County Superintendent of Schools, John C. Sylling reports that the McFarland school in Scott township is now the only one closed in the county because of sickness. There is an epidemic of scarlet fever in the district and directors thought it best to close the school.

The Volant school, which was closed for a short time on account of measles, has again been opened. There are several districts in the county where there has been an epidemic of measles, but the worst appears to be over.

Mr. Rentz Enthuses Over Possibility Of Getting New Station

Writing from Los Angeles, Fred L. Rentz, president of The News Company, who is now on a vacation in the West, shows a lively interest in everything that is going on in New Castle, being particularly pleased that some development has occurred that indicates the city may get a new P. & L. E. Railroad station. Mr. Rentz's letter is as follows:

Los Angeles, Cal., Feb. 12, 1930.
George W. Conway,
Editor The News,
New Castle, Pa.

Dear George:—

We arrived here about noon on Monday. On Tuesday evening Percy P. MacNab and his wife came to the Biltmore and took us to a big banquet given by four hundred members of the Men's Brotherhood of California, at the Florence Avenue United Presbyterian church, which is located about twelve miles from this hotel. Percy MacNab was the escort for Gov. C. C. Young of California and the governor and ourselves were taken to the banquet in the MacNab car. Mrs. MacNab was also in the party. We had quite a conversation with the governor on the way to the banquet. He knows all the leading politicians in Pennsylvania. The governor made a fine address. Lt. Gov. Carnahan was also present at the banquet. This great men's organization is a powerful one in California. The simple fact that the busy governor and the lieutenant governor graced this meeting with their presence is ample proof of that. About a hundred of the men present were from Pennsylvania, which was gratifying to us.

We noticed in a newspaper on Monday that a meeting of the Pennsylvania society was to be held that evening. We took a walk out there and found few New Castleites there. Those present were A. P. Grant, Mrs. John Stoddard, Tom A. Hammond, an old New Castle glass worker, and J. J.

Daniels, who lives at 133 Laurel Boulevard, New Castle, and who is out here on a visit. He lives near us and we did not know him and had to get acquainted with him out here. Mr. Grant had a tailor shop in New Castle until a short time ago.

There are 62,000 former residents of Pennsylvania registered in Los Angeles county. About two-third of the former residents of Allegheny county. We hope no one will be base enough to think they are from any of the well known penal institutions in that county.

We have not met Lindbergh yet. He has been everywhere we have been so far.

We do not tell Scotch stories, but we heard a public speaker pull a terrible one. He said two children killed their Scotch parents so they could go to the orphan's picnic. Omygosh.

We have an idea the reason houses out here are not built of brick and stone is because they are afraid the earthquakes will shake 'em down. Wood will bend and twist a lot before it will break or fall down.

We hear and see a lot of funny things. We were in a popular lunch counter when the waitresses have held the same jobs for years. One dignified old golf player was eating his lunch and his favorite waitress was joking with him and seeing a drop of soup on his vest warned him, sweetly that he had spilled some soup on his rompers. Yeow.

We called on Mrs. Joe Clark and visited a short time. Mr. and Mrs. James Abbott stops at Mrs. Clark's hotel and we had a little visit with them also. They had gone to bed but got up.

The first New Castle folks we saw in Los Angeles were Miss Carrie Crawford and her niece, Mrs. Carrie Crawford Baldwin. We met them on the street in front of the Biltmore hotel.

One day we saw a fine looking chap over six feet tall, with long flowing whiskers of a molasses color and long hair looking about like the hair on a lion walking along the street. He was nicely dressed, was carrying a cane and in his bare feet. His toes even seemed well manicured and were pink, probably from the cold. We were told he was a religious nut. Heinz preserve us.

The weather in Los Angeles is quite a bit cooler than in San Diego, but the boosters are about the same and the hotel rates higher.

As we were coming to Los Angeles on the Santa Fe train Mrs. Rentz was reading a copy of The New Castle News. A gentleman across the aisle from her told his wife that a lady was reading a New Castle paper and she said she could not believe it. When she saw the paper she believed it all right and was soon in earnest conversation with the reader of the paper. She was Mrs. William Singleton and before her marriage in 1893 was Miss Margaret Winteritz, who lived on Croton avenue, New Castle with her parents and sisters and brothers. Mr. Singleton was connected with Witherspoon's works at that time, but for some years they have resided in New York and they also travel extensively in this and foreign countries. The writer attended school with Mrs. Singleton and of course the time was short from that time until we arrived in Los Angeles. They were with us one night here in the Biltmore.

On last Sunday evening nine former and present New Castleites sat down to dinner in the home of Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Treadwell, at Point Loma in Los Angeles. The party consisted of Mr. and Mrs. Percy P. MacNab, Mrs. Minnie Bryson Olliger, another Reynolds school mate, Mrs. M. B. Love, Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Treadwell and Mr. and Mrs. Fred L. Rentz. It was some reunion.

We came across another old time Reynolds school mate in San Diego in the person of Albert Heasley. He was visiting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Murphy. Mr. Murphy was a drug clerk in Paisley's drug store in New Castle in 1889-90 and knows a flock of people in New Castle. Mrs. Murphy is a sister of the husband of Mrs. Ella Miller Risher formerly of New Castle and a cousin of Mrs. Rentz.

A Clyde Kinter and his wife have been located in San Diego for five years. Mr. Kinter was connected with the New Castle Knitting Mill and was a Rotarian and much interested in civic affairs while he was in New Castle. He has been sick, but is getting better. We had a nice visit with them several times while in San Diego.

I notice with much gratification that some activity along the lines of a new P. & L. E. R. R. station is going on in New Castle. This is great.

The thought of a new court house should not be allowed to die like a grand jury report for fifty years.

When New Castle gets a new railroad station, a new court house and quits building all the bridges in one spot there will be some chance of making that fine city what it should be.

Let us proceed joyfully with these good works now apparently started and we will profit greatly in the future.

A lady who has been in New Castle only once in forty years, asked us in San Diego why all the bridges were built so close together across the Ne-shannock in New Castle. We told her it was not our fault. The taking out of the Rosena dam will appear like a good thing to some after some years go by.

Yours for a better and bigger New Castle and no let-up until it is done.
Fred L. Rentz.

Body Is Mangled By Oil Explosion

ALTIQUIPPA, Pa., Feb. 15.—His body mangled and burned when blown 35 feet into the air by an explosion of an oil tank at an oil operation of the South B. & O. Company, near Gringo, Hopewell township, William C. Bott, 53, foreman, of Five Points, along the Broadhead road, was instantly killed.

Bott, a former well known athlete, was foreman of the oil operations and had been employed by this company for 35 years. How the accident occurred has not been definitely determined.

One thing's a cinch—th' weather has got t' get mighty cold t' prevent trains an' trolley cars from doin' business at th' same ol' crossin's.

"GOD COULDN'T BE EVERYWHERE, SO HE MADE MOTHERS."
In this proverb, even the pagan recognizes in the mother, a God appointed guardian of the race.

Our own city knows no greater need than just such guardianship or mothering—for our homes, for our schools, for our recreations and for our public housekeeping. To aid such work is the aim of this column.

HEALTH EDUCATION Health Department of New Castle Schools

The modern trend in the health work among school children has been a progressive and changed its course in the past few years that the whole educational system has been effected by it.

The new thought in the development of health education is to produce a scientific program of recognized educational value, emphasizing hygiene, health citizenship and attitudes, along with the development of a progressive and corrective physical education program and health service.

The part which education plays in producing a healthy nation is larger than the public realizes and it is very necessary that any growing program must be based on actual needs as shown by uncontrovertible facts rather than upon general theories. As a result the threefold idea as mentioned above has been developed.

As to the first part of the program that of health instruction, its aims are vital to any community. They might be classed: first, to instruct children and youth so that they may conserve and improve their own health; second, to establish in them the habits and principles of living throughout their entire life, which will assure that abundant vigor and vitality which provides the basis for the greatest possible happiness and service in personal, family and community life, and third, to improve the individual and community life of the nation and develop a healthier nation and race.

As to physical education, it is passing from the contortionistic stage into a scientific program which will be of value to every school child, correcting those postural defects which are already present and preventing others from developing. Also to give to every child the opportunity for competitive and constructive play, thereby offering the greatest good to the greatest number possible.

With the physician to take care of the health service there are two registered nurses, a dentist and two registered dental hygienists. The work of these individuals will be discussed in later articles.

For the hygiene and corrective exercise departments there are 40 teachers trained for health education teaching. They teach hygiene subjects, carry on the physical and corrective exercises as well as oversee and inspect the children daily for contagious diseases. These teachers are important factors in our health department, as they are our constant guards over the health of our school children.

Red Foxes Seen Inside The City

While it is more or less hard to conceive, yet it is true that there are quite a number of red foxes running at large in some of the wooded districts within the limits of the city.

H. F. Hagen, 519 Garfield avenue, is authority for the statement that one day recently while in or near the wooded district lying on the hillside between Neshannock Boulevard and Neshannock river and near the west end of Garfield avenue, that he has four large specimens of the red fox in the woods.

Wild life such as rabbits is also plentiful in this same district and it is a natural park well worth preserving for the benefit of the present and future generations.

Fellow Rotarians:

The Program Committee and the International Service Committee should be congratulated on the program arranged for us. Dr. E. B. Russell, head of the Department of History of Westminster College, will speak to us on:

"The Peace Pact"

Chairman Bill was particularly to inform the writer that the word was spelled "peace" but after discussion, it was agreed that both spellings may be correct.

Dr. McDowell and Bill Huges attended Rotary at St. Pele before the rounds of golf. Charlie Kennedy attended his old home club at Butler. Fred Rentz was seen but not heard at San Diego Rotary. Can you imagine that such would be possible?

Buckwheat Cakes and Sausage Rodeo
You know how much the New Wilmington Rotarians have pulled these parties before. And this one is just a little better than the preceding ones, so they say. We doubt whether this is possible, but it sounds good. Hon. James J. Davis, maybe, governor of Pennsylvania, will be the speaker of the evening.

Monday evening, 6:30 p. m. at the United Presbyterian church. Expense $1.00. Never too late to make reservation. Call the secretary now.

New Wilmington

The Naccanna Club was entertained by Mrs. C. C. Adams at her home on Waugh avenue, last evening. Almost twenty-five were present. Dainty refreshments, in keeping with the holiday season were served. Fancy work and amusement were the programs for the evening.

The regular service at the U. P. Church for Sabbath will be conducted by the pastor, Rev. J. Ralph Neale. The theme of the sermon will be, "How much owest thou?"

The service at the Presbyterian church will be conducted by the pastor, Rev. W. F. Byers. The theme of the sermon will be "Justification by Faith."

The theme of the sermon at the M. E. church will be "Sealed" Rev. Bloomquist will conduct the regular services.
